World Bank slashes India's growth forecast to 6.5%

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE World Bank on Thursday revised India's FY23 GDP growth estimate to 6.5% in its latest report, down from its June 2022 estimate of 7.5%. The latest estimate is 150 basis points lower than its April growth projection of 8% in the current financial year.

The South Asia Economic Focus report released by the World Bank said economic growth in India will slow down in the fiscal year ending March 2023, though the country is coming off a strong recovery in FY2022. It also sees the spillovers from the Ukraine war and global monetary policy tightening weighing on India's economic outlook. The World Bank expects high inflation and rising borrowing costs affecting domestic demand and private consumption in India in the next financial year. It forecasts India's GDP growth at 7% in FY24 and 6.1% in FY25. It also sees private investment growth dampening because of heightened uncertainty and higher financing costs.

"The Indian economy has done well compared to the other countries in South Asia, with relatively strong growth performance... bounced back from the sharp contraction during the first phase of COVID," Hans Timmer, World Bank Chief Economist for South Asia said.

Cough syrup samples sent for testing after WHO alert

World health body had tied them to the death of 66 kids in Gambia

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

HOURS after the World Health Organisation (WHO) issued a global alert over four India-made cough syrups linked with the deaths of 66 children in The Gambia, the Central Drugs Standard Control Organisation (CDSO) launched an urgent probe to ascertain the facts.

The cough syrup by New Delhi-based Indian company Maiden Pharma is only exported. The WHO on Wednesday flagged four "contaminated" and "substandard" cough syrups made by Maiden. The company, which started in 1990, has two manufacturing units in Haryana and a corporate office in Pitampura, New Delhi.

The controversial syrups — Promethazine Oral Solution, Kofexmalin Baby Cough Syrup, Makoff Baby Cough Syrup and Magrip N Cold Syrup — are "potentially linked with acute kidney injuries and 66 deaths among children."

Lab analysis of samples of each of the four products confirms that they contain unacceptable amounts of diethylene glycol and ethylene glycol as contaminants, the WHO claimed. To date, these products have been identified in The Gambia but may have been distributed elsewhere, too.

Diethylene glycol and ethylene glycol are toxic to humans and can prove fatal.

According to the Union Health Ministry, the WHO informed DCGI, the national drug regulator of India, on September 29. CDSCO took up the matter with the Haryana State Regulatory Authority, under whose jurisdiction Maiden is located in Sonepat, the ministry said.

CDSCO's preliminary enquiry revealed that the State Drug Controller gave Maiden manufacturing license only for export. "The company has manufactured and exported these products only to The Gambia," officials added.

No teachers to fill even half of posts in K'taka

DONNA EVA @ Bengaluru

THE drive undertaken by the Department of School Education and Literacy to recruit 15,000 teachers for primary schools across the state seems to have hit a roadblock. Reason: There are not enough eligible candidates to fill even half the posts in many districts.

A source told TNIE, "There are not enough eligible candidates. In Raichur, around 469 posts for maths teachers are vacant, but 230 eligible candidates have applied". The department is following the 1:2 ratio method under which 2 candidates will be shortlisted for each post. Of the two candidates, one will be selected based on factors like seniority, experience and marks obtained in their degrees.

Speaking to TNIE, several district Deputy Directors of Public Instruction (DDPIs) voiced their concern over the shortage. In CM Basavaraj Bommai's home district Haveri, there is a shortage of teachers. "There are 363 vacant posts and 520 candidates have been shortlisted after document verification," Haveri DDPI BS Jagadeeshwar told TNIE. CONTINUED ON: P7

Plea turned down, DKS to appear before ED

K SHIVA KUMAR @ Nagamangala (Mandya)

KPCC president DK Shivakumar, one of the main leaders behind the ongoing Karnataka leg of the party's 'Bharat Jodo Yatra', will have to skip the yatra on Friday and appear before the Enforcement Directorate (ED) in connection with the 'National Herald' case. This comes after the ED turned down the request of Shivakumar and his brother DK Suresh for a later date to appear before the agency.

"I had requested more time to appear before the ED, citing the responsibilities I have during the yatra which is passing through the state. I wanted to be with Rahul Gandhi when he visits Adi Chunchanagiri Mutt. But the Central government is misusing agencies. I am a law-abiding citizen. I don't know why ED officials are targeting me at a time when the yatra is on", Shivakumar said.

"Kuldeep Singh is the officer who has summoned us. He is the officer who is investigating the 'Young India' and 'National Herald' case. He had also summoned Sonia Gandhi, Rahul Gandhi, Mallikarjun Kharge and others. I discussed the issue with my party leaders and they have advised me to appear before the ED along with my brother," he said, adding, "Requests for later appearance are usually honoured by authorities."

AICC General Secretary Randeep Singh Surjewala said the ED move shows that the BJP is rattled by the success of the Bharat Jodo Yatra. He said the yatra will not stop even if the ED books cases against senior state leaders like Siddaramaiah and B K Hariprasad.

Hampi: Govt officials flout rules at Unesco site

KIRAN BALANNANAVAR @ Hosapete

IN a classic case of enforcers of law becoming lawbreakers, government officials are using heavy vehicles inside Unesco-protected tourist site Hampi. Some vehicles with government registration have been spotted inside a Non-Vibration Zone like Vijaya Vittala Temple in Hampi.

As per the rules, only battery-operated vehicles are allowed inside the premises of the temple. While government officials do use electric buggies from Gejjal Mantapa to Vijaya Vittala Temple, tourists and activists are complaining that some officials and their relatives are using heavy vehicles in the protected areas.

To avoid damage to ancient monuments, some areas in Hampi were declared as Non-Vibration Zones. Vijaya Vittala Temple is one among them.

Manjunath P, a local resident, said Hampi is recognised by Unesco as a World Heritage Site and is being protected by the Archeological Survey Of India and Hampi World Heritage Area Management Authority (HWHAMA).

Strangely, right under their nose, rules are being violated by none other than the government officials themselves, he said.

"Movement of heavy vehicles is banned on the route from Gejjal Mantapa to Vijaya Vittala Temple. Last year, when the then Vice President of India Venkaiah Naidu visited Hampi, he took a buggy to reach Vijaya Vittala Temple. Strictly speaking, no vehicle should be allowed inside the restricted zone", he added.

WATER GOES DOWN DRAINS, NOT TO KOLAR

Varthur froths with polluted water; MID says tanks full, refuses to pump water downstream

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

VARTHUR Lake is frothing again. Residents of areas surrounding Bellandur and Varthur lakes, and former members of the National Green Tribunal-appointed committee pointed out that there is frothing in Varthur lake, along with accumulation of polluted water at the outlet over the past two months.

They said that BWSSB has not been treating water at Koramangala-Challaghatta Valley (KC valley), and that of 600 MLD installed capacity, only 30-40 MLD is being treated. The Minor Irrigation Department (MID) is not pumping water from Bengaluru downstream to Kolar and other districts, and instead, both treated and untreated water is flowing back into the drains. The committee also pointed out that some of the untreated water is flowing from Varthur lake downstream, causing groundwater contamination, which has angered residents of Kolar.

The Karnataka government had undertaken a project, costing ₹1,450 crore, to pump 10tmcft of water annually from Bengaluru to fill 300 tanks downstream, including 136 in Kolar.

BWSSB Chairman N Jayaram denied allegations of the committee members, and claimed that water was being treated to its full capacity, following which it was released into storm water drains, as the MID has refused to pump water downstream.

C Mrutyunjaya Swamy, Secretary, MID, said treated water was not being released to Kolar as the lakes are full after heavy showers. Pumping water downstream has been halted for over a month.

The state government is not keen on pumping water downstream to other states like Tamil Nadu and Andhra Pradesh after investing energy and money in Karnataka, and so, pumping had been stopped at Mulbagal, the last point to the Pennar river.

DPR to upgrade 20 STPs ready

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

THE Bangalore Water Supply and Sewerage Board (BWSSB) has readied a detailed project report to upgrade 20 sewage treatment plant after a detailed study was completed by the IISc.

The report for the ₹1,500-crore project has been submitted to the Tender Scrutinisation Committee.

M Devaraju, Chief Engineer, Waste Water Management, BWSSB told TNIE, "BWSSB has 36 STPs that can treat 1527 million litres per day (MLD) of sewage water. Of them, 20 will be upgraded to meet the standards laid down by the NGT in 2019 (April 30), and the KSPCB. This would ensure that the treated water supplied to lakes and neighbouring districts are of a better quality." The new norm has made it mandatory that the Phosphorous content is less than 1 mg per litre and nitrates less than 10 mg per litre, he added.

BWSSB Chairman N Jayaram said, "Among the 20 that would be upgraded are the treatment plants at Kadubeesanahalli (50 MLD capacity), Bellandur Aminikere (90 MLD), KC Valley (60 MLD), Hebbal (60 MLD) , Mylasandra (75 MLD) and Doddabela (20 MLD)."

Work on upgradation is expected to begin in January 2023. "By January 2025, we plan to have all the 20 plants upgraded," he added.

Beggar cess dues balloon, BBMP says will clear ₹25cr

MOHAMMED YACOOB @ Bengaluru

SOCIAL Welfare Department's Nirashithara Parihara Kendra on Magadi Road has alleged that a whooping Rs 165 crore is pending with the Urban Development Department, Rural Development and Panchayat Raj Department and BBMP

Archana YB, Additional Secretary, Social Welfare Department, said that the department's Nirashithara Parihara Kendra has been sending reminders since April 2022, but there has been no response yet.

Speaking to TNIE, the official said, "The Magadi Road centre houses the largest beggar population among the 14 centres in the state. The cess amount pending with BBMP is huge."

According to officials, the detention period of the centre is ranges from one to three years. In case, the relatives are tracked or if someone comes to take them, they are released following legal procedures.

"The centre, which has dormitories, kitchens, conducts skill training, provides food and medicines till they learn to earn a living. To run a centre with 858 beggars, and also pay salaries, the administration is dependent on the cess amount," said Archana.

The BBMP collects three per cent beggar cess which amounts to ₹20 crore annually, which is supposed to be given to the centre after deducting 10 per cent service charge. But the Palike allegedly pays only paltry sums.

BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath said the Palike will clear ₹25 crore dues. "The cess amount will be paid but for the last five years will be released. So far, ₹200 crore has been cleared," he said.

VC: College with course for failed PU students affiliated

DONNA EVA @ Bengaluru

THE advertisement for 'Inclusive Education Programme', which allows students who have failed their second PU examination to obtain degrees at the New Shores International College, through a bridge course, has created confusion.

The college name was not mentioned, but its number was given in the advertisement and the notification.

Following reports that the college, allegedly affiliated to Bengaluru North University (BNU), has been issuing misleading advertisements, Bangalore University (BU) issued a notification on September 29, warning citizens of fraud and fake PUC board marksheets.

The authorities of the college in Banaswadi maintains that it was affiliated to BU, but after trifurcation, it is now affiliated to BNU. "We were established in 2006, and have been affiliated to the university throughout. I will bring this to the notice of the management, and will speak to the authorities concerned. In future, we will ensure that the college's name is mentioned in advertisements, and the bridging course is explained," Vivek Raju, chief administrator of the college, told TNIE.

BU Registrar M Kotresh told TNIE that the college is affiliated. However, he did not mention any retraction from the university on the notification. This was also confirmed to TNIE by BNU vice-chancellor Dr Niranjan Vanalli, who said that the college is affiliated.

'Clg treated as exception'

Dr Vanalli mentioned that the college had been given multiple notifications regarding its bridging programme. However, the issue has been settled after a court order came in favour of the college and the government.

"We have received many complaints from students and parents. The college admits students who have failed their second PU, and they have to pay over ₹6 lakh. But when the bridging course is completed, the college refuses to issue PU marksheets, and instead forces them to stay on for another three years to complete their degree," Dr Vanalli told TNIE.

He stated the university was helpless since the college had been treated as an exception to host a bridging course similar to what it was advertising.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

07th October: The ongoing Neptune alignment is still raising personal questions. There's something about the mood of the times that encourages reckless people to imagine that they can get away with anything. There's a very simple solution: selflessness. Always help others without expecting anything in return!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
There are still intense feelings lurking in the emotional undergrowth, but our stars favour simple affairs like shopping and finding other ways to dispense with your hard-earned cash. You can compensate for any mistakes you made yesterday - or last week.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
You are still having to come to terms with difficulties and opposition created by people you thought were on your team. Perhaps they are still on your side after all, and maybe their criticism is away of helping you back on to the straight and narrow.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
There are a number of mysteries around. Perhaps something valuable will be lost, or perhaps a friend will entrust you with a secret. All should be revealed before long, so spend the day searching for clues. Actually, a partner might have just the answers you need.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Passive resistance will achieve more than belligerence. Probably you'll find that if you make a point of charming other people, and of showing them how much you can enjoy yourself, their opposition will melt away. You may even convince them that they were wrong about you.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Everything appeared to be going according to plan until more planets began pouring into sensitive and emotional areas of your chart. Now, all your personal and family plans will have to be revised and re-thought. Still, it's good to have a chance to tighten up your act.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Out of a total of ten planets, five are now playing on your side, so you can afford to be more than a little complacent - and confident. You may feel that it is impolite to boast, but at least you should spare yourself five minutes to rest on your laurels.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
One way or another, you should be ready to bring one economic cycle to an end, but you must also be prepared to take all the important decisions. It may be another few weeks before monetary matters are settled, so don't submit to unfair pressure.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
It may be difficult to distance yourself from individuals, places or situations which are churning up your emotions or making you feel undervalued. However, it is not impossible. All depends on a change in your attitudes to your own strengths and talents.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
It's a day of work for all Sagittarians everywhere. Even those of you who had decided to put your feet up will have to find some way to keep active or risk the onset of boredom. Even if you're relaxing, you'll do it as well as you can! And don't worry about rumours or gossip.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
There are some disruptive aspects around at the moment, but they probably bother other people more than you. Your main fear may be of destitution or poverty, a deeply-held complex which may have a negative impact on your spending patterns. Actually, it can also help you save money - by making you think twice before wasting it.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
This is likely to be a confusing moment, because while the indications in your chart are all very pronounced, they are pulling in different directions. It may be impossible to decide whether personal promises or public obligations are more important.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Far-reaching changes are about to take place in your personal life. Many Pisceans are dreaming of making a big escape, but sometimes your fantasies exist solely in your imagination. A lively Moon, later on, should bring you a brief but helpful breathing space.

COUGH SYRUP IS CONSUMED ILLOGICALLY IN INDIA: DOCTORS

NAMRATA SINDWANI @Bengaluru

FOLLOWING the alert raised by World Health Organisation (WHO) over four India-made cough syrups as the possible reason behind the death of 66 children in Gambia, doctors raised concerns over cough syrup being one of the top drugs being consumed "illogically" and bought Over-the-Counter (OTC) in India.

Dr Rajath Athreya, head of department, Paediatrics and Neonatology, Sakra World Hospital, said cough syrups were illogically prescribed and bought in the country, despite many ailments like regular cold and cough "being self-limiting and getting cured" on their own.

However, the Indian pharmaceutical market is flooded with cough syrups and combination medication without any proven benefits, Dr Athreya said, raising concerns over unnecessary prescriptions given these days, and drugs being easily available OTC, which caused people to buy and consume it without proper prescription. He suggested that in case there was no proper diagnosis of an ailment, it was more beneficial to consume less medication.

Dr Nandana Bala, paediatrician at Rainbow Children's Hospital, raised similar concerns. She also said she had not heard the names of the particular syrups until questions were raised on them by WHO.

Many cough syrups are only available and prescribed in India, a concept which does not exist in other countries. Most people don't find them necessary as well, Dr Nandana added. Agreeing with Dr Rajath, she said that syrups were not needed for coughs. However, she suggested that it was vital to ensure proper diagnosis of a cough. Parents should also be guided not to give children cough syrup for every ailment. Doctors also voiced the lack in regulation of drugs in India, which often caused many low-quality drugs or prescribed/banned drugs being easily available OTC. They also suggested to people not to consume four cough syrups until further investigation by the Drug Controller General of India. WHO had raised concerns over four cough and cold syrups manufactured by Maiden Pharmaceuticals – Promethazine Oral Solution, Kofexmalin Baby Cough Syrup, Makoff Baby Cough Syrup and Magrip N Cold Syrup.

Ex-minister urges Araga to make city friendly for cyclists, pedestrians

BENGALURU: Former minister and Rajajinagar MLA Suresh Kumar met Home Minister Araga Jnanendra and urged him to take steps to ensure the safety of pedestrians and cyclists. The BJP MLA suggested that an inspector should be posted in all four traffic divisions to achieve this so that people are encouraged to take public transport and use cycles. Kumar, in his letter to Araga, said there were many signals in the city where the free-left turn was allowed and this was causing inconvenience to pedestrians, especially senior citizens, women, and schoolchildren. "Traffic rules and designs are being formed keeping in mind only motorists, completely neglecting pedestrians and cyclists," he added. Further, Kumar said that governments were working towards achieving zero emissions and encouraging people to use bicycles and creating a safe environment for pedestrians will also contribute to this.

SINGER HARASSED IN THEATRE, NCR FILED AGAINST YOUTHS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

SINGER and music composer Vasuki Vaibhav, who was also the second runner up of Bigg Boss Kannada Season 7, reportedly encountered trouble from some movie-goers recently, and had to call the police control room.

Vaibhav had gone to watch Kannada movie 'Kantara' in Urvashi theatre on Monday afternoon, when the incident occurred. He and his friends were reportedly abused by some youths, who had also come to watch the movie, over a trivial issue. Trouble began when the suspects, who had arrived late, started blocking the view of the singer and his friends, while passing in front of their seats. Vaibhav requested them to move faster, which reportedly offended them, and they hit back. It did not stop there and continued during the interval. The youths are alleged to have picked a fight with the singer and his friends for staring at them. When things started getting out of control, Vaibhav called the police.

The Kalasipalya police came to the theatre and took both parties to the police station. Vaibhav is said to have refused to file any case if the suspects apologised. The suspects, identified as Basavaraj, Murali, and others, are said to have apologised.

But Vaibhav's friend, Darshan Gowda, filed a complaint with the police, who have registered a Non-Cognisable Report (NCR).

SONIA, RAHUL MARCH ON, WIN MANDYA'S HEART

Yatra resumes from Pandavapura, gets big response in JDS fortress

K SHIVA KUMAR @ Nagamangala

A THUNDEROUS response awaited the Congress in JDS bastion Mandya, as the Bharat Jodo Yatra entered the Vokkaliga stronghold, resuming from T S Chatra in Pandavapura after a two-day break.

Congress supremo Sonia Gandhi joining the march led by son Rahul Gandhi energised party workers, besides boosting the participation of veteran leaders, farmers, working classes, women and people from all walks of life. Party veterans Mallikarjun Kharge, Digvijay Singh, Jairam Ramesh and others kept in step with Sonia, who despite her age and health constraints, marched energetically for more than 10km, inspiring Congress workers who thronged the area.

The rally, which began at Bellale in Pandavapura, saw more than 20,000 people walking for over 8.5km to reach Karadaya lake, where lunch was arranged for the participants. When the march resumed, they covered over 9 km to reach Bhramadevarahalli village to hold a street-corner meeting.

In the interim, Rahul Gandhi interacted with the farming community and families of farmers who had committed suicide in the recent past. Listening to their stories of agony, he assured them that the Congress would come out with long-term programmes and projects to benefit farmers, if it returns to power in Karnataka.

Mother and son marching together won the hearts of the people, and the villagers were full of praise for them. Mandya could give a fillip to the party's fortunes, with a robust voter turnout in the upcoming elections.

People's energy taking me along, says RaGa

Rahul Gandhi, who walked for over 25km on Thursday, said that a padayatra is not an easy task. Addressing a public gathering, he said that normally, a person who starts walking in the morning is fresh and as the evening draws, the person is tired. "But on this yatra, I have been noticing something quite strange -- as the day goes on, I get less and less tired and the last steps are easier. For some days, I was thinking about this. It was a mystery I couldn't understand... why it was less tiring in the evening. Then I realised that I was not using my own energy. I was using the energy of the people of Karnataka, which is why I feel less tired..." he said.

He said that just as a divided family cannot succeed, a country that is divided cannot succeed either. "Anybody who divides a family works against the interests of the family. In the same way, anybody who divides the country works against the interests of the country," he said.

Rahul recounted that three women had wept and spoken to him about their husbands. "One of the women said her husband, a farmer, had taken a loan. One day, he went to the field and committed suicide. He had borrowed money at 24%... I was wondering what sort of country is this where the richest is allowed to borrow at 6% while a farmer has to borrow at 24%. How can it be that the second richest is an Indian, and the largest number of poor are Indians?" he asked.

Baby elephant will be saved, says CM

BENGALURU: The injured elephant calf in Nagarahole Tiger Reserve that caught the attention of Congress leader Rahul Gandhi will be treated and monitored, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said on Thursday. Responding to Rahul's emotional letter, Bommai said he appreciates his concern about the health of the calf, and that the government would do everything to save its life. Earlier in the day, Bommai said he was out of town and had received Rahul's letter, and would respond after talking to officials. Bommai said he had inquired with forest officials, who said the calf may have been attacked by wild animals. At present, it is being breast-fed by the mother, and is being constantly monitored by the forest department. He also pointed out that it is not advisable to separate the mother and baby elephant. ENS

BHARAT JODO YATRA A DOUBLE-BOOSTER FOR CONGRESS: JAIRAM

K SHIVA KUMAR @ Bengaluru

ASSERTING that the Bharat Jodo Yatra, which has been embarked upon by Congress MP Rahul Gandhi, is a "fight against tyrannical and divisive forces", senior Congress leader and MP Jairam Ramesh said that the unity march will prove to be a double-booster for the grand old party.

In an exclusive interaction with TNIE on the sidelines of the yatra, which left Pandavapura on Thursday, the former Union minister, who is also the general secretary in-charge of communications for the Congress, said, "We are not conducting the Bharat Jodo Yatra for electoral gains, but to unite India against hate and to strengthen harmony."

Explaining how the Karnataka leg of the yatra is different from that of the Kerala leg in terms of demography, Ramesh said that unlike the neighbouring state, where villages are closer to each other, the scenario here is different, due to a larger area. "We were skeptical about the response, but people have been giving us overwhelming support. Undeterred by the downpour, Rahul Gandhi gave an electrifying speech to the people in Mysuru, which was well-received. With people from all walks of life joining this march, it has been proved that no force can stop the yatra from uniting the country, while speaking up against unemployment and price rise," he said.

When asked if the yatra will have any implications on the elections in the state and also across the country, Ramesh said the polls are a different issue. "We are not walking for electoral gains, but for harmony. The party's unity is important, along with discipline and strategy," he said, adding that the Congress does not have a culture of announcing chief ministerial candidates before an election. "We should win – that is the larger challenge for the party and its leaders. In Karnataka, we have 35-40 per cent vote share, so there won't be much of a problem," he said.

Ramesh also revealed that preparations are under way for the Telangana leg of the yatra. "In Telangana, we have 23 per cent vote share and we will be walking for 13 days in that state, followed by four days in Andra Pradesh. We are hopeful of the Congress coming to power in Telangana that has a strong organisational base. Asaduddin Owaisi of the AIMIM is the B-team of the BJP, and considering the high Muslim vote share, he is working to split votes. But the people are realising this now," Ramesh stated.

Meanwhile, he also expressed happiness over the response that the march was garnering in Mandya, even as it will next move towards Tumakuru on Saturday, both of which being considered JDS strongholds.

KCR will campaign for JDS in 2023, says HDK

ENS @ Bengaluru

FORMER chief minister H D Kumaraswamy on Thursday informed that Telangana Chief Minister K Chandrashekar Rao will campaign for JDS candidates in the 2023 Assembly polls in Karnataka, however, the Bharat Rashtra Samithi (BRS), the new party launched by the latter, will not be contesting the same.

"The BRS, which has plans to contest 150 Lok Sabha seats in 2024, will also field its candidates in the state in a few seats that fall on the Karnataka-Telangana border, with the JDS backing them," he clarified, observing that Rao has influence over 15-20 Assembly seats in Karnataka.

"We already have four MLAs in Kalyana Karnataka. Going forward, we might win 15-20 seats in that region," he hoped.

Farmer aid

Meanwhile, Kumaraswamy said that JDS, as an ally of BRS, will adopt Telangana's signature programmes in its election manifesto. "The 'Raitha Bandhu', which is aimed at uplifting farmers through free power supply for irrigation; and 'Dalitha Bandhu', to provide financial assistance and foster self-employment, will be implemented if JDS comes to power," the former CM said, adding that Rao has suggested that he send a delegation of farmers and Dalits to Telangana to study the schemes.

Also, the 'Janata Mitra' campaign that the JDS had launched in Bengaluru sometime back, before heavy rain lashed the city, will culminate for a convention at the National College Grounds on October 8. The campaign for the forthcoming BBMP polls will be kicked off from there, Kumaraswamy informed. He reiterated that on November 1, the JDS will launch its campaign for the Assembly polls, commemorating the Kannada Rajyotsava Day, by resuming the 'Pancharatna' rath yatra. A workshop for candidates will be held on October 17 and 18, as the party is focusing on winning 130 seats, he said.

Kumaraswamy also criticised Rahul Gandhi's 'Bharat Jodo Yatra', terming it a 'Congress Jodo Yatra', and said it will have no impact on the coming polls in Karnataka.

Police bridge hostile groups in Kolar village

V VELAYUDHAM @ Kolar

KOLAR police worked swiftly to bridge people of two communities in Danavana Halli village, Narasapura hobli, Kolar taluk, where members of the Dalit community and the upper caste were involved in a clash.

Within 24 hours of the incident, Kolar police organised a peace meeting headed by SP D Devaraj, and succeeded in bringing harmony in the village. Sources said Central Range IGP M Chandrashekar was particular that a solution was found to sort out the rancour between the two communities.

Deputy SP Muralidhar, Tahsildar Nagaraj, and senior social welfare department officers were present at the meeting, where the SP took both communities into confidence. It was decided to take out a grand Sree Gangamma Grama and Sree Kateeramma Grama procession, to all houses. The initiative was welcomed by politicians.

It may be recalled that the villagers of Danavana Halli had allegedly refused to take the procession of their grama devatas Gangamma and Katteramma through the streets where people from the Dalit community reside. The situation reportedly turned ugly, resulting in a few people from both communities sustaining injuries.

According to one Muniyappa on Wednesday, several people from the Dalit community had gathered under a tree in their village to discuss about the procession of their village deities, which was arranged for Dasara. Meanwhile, people from the upper caste, allegedly said they would not take the procession to the former's houses, which led to a heated altercation between the two groups.

On the other hand, a member of the upper caste, Harish, alleged an attempt to murder against the other group, after which a case was registered against eleven people.

Bommai, BSY to commence state tour from October 11

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai and former CM BS Yediyurappa will start their statewide tour from Raichur in Kalyana Karnataka region on October 11. Congress leader Rahul Gandhi's Bharat Jodo Yatra will be traversing through Central Karnataka region next week.

Bommai and Yediyurappa will visit 50 Assembly segments in the next three months setting the tone for the BJP's campaign for the 2023 Assembly polls. Two teams headed by BJP state unit president Nalin Kumar Kateel and BJP national general secretary Arun Singh will also continue their state tour. In all, the party leaders plan to cover 165 Assembly segments by end of December.

According to a senior BJP leader, during their visit to Assembly segments, Bommai and Yediyurappa will address conventions, meet beneficiaries of the State and Central government schemes, hold meetings with booth-level BJP workers and also interact with the party office-bearers. The duo will be in Raichur district for three days starting October 11.

Apart from BJP state leaders visiting the Assembly segments, the BJP is also holding many conventions focussing on different segments. The party is holding an OBC convention in Kalaburagi on October 30 and an ST convention in Ballari in November. In December, the party is holding an SC convention in Mysuru, a farmers' convention in Hubballi, a mahila morcha convention in Bengaluru and yuva morcha meet in Mangaluru.

A senior BJP leader said appointments to boards and corporations that are pending for several months will be done in the next few days and Bommai will also go for ministry expansion as soon as he gets approval from the party high command.

Meanwhile, Arun Singh said in the state Executive Committee meeting on Friday they will discuss the roadmap for winning 150 seats in the 2023 Assembly polls. Another BJP leader said the meeting will also discuss the Congress' Bharat Jodo Yatra. The leader, however, maintained that the yatra has failed to get a good response from people of Karnataka.

Yatra has no impact on BJP, says CM

Bengaluru: Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Thursday said that AICC interim president Sonia Gandhi joining the Bharat Jodo Yatra will not have any impact on the BJP or Karnataka. Politicians work for their respective parties and Sonia Gandhi too is doing the same, he told reporters here. "She just walked for 500m. These things will not have any impact on the ruling party," he said, adding Congress leader Priyanka Gandhi Vadra joining the yatra too will not have any impact.

BJP MP: HM to look into 'Naxal hand' in yatra

Bengaluru: BJP MP Lahar Singh Siroya said that Home Minister Araga Jnanendra has assured him of examining his concerns about possible involvement of Naxals in the planning of the Congress' Bharat Jodo Yatra. Singh met the Home Minister in Bengaluru on Thursday. "Met Karnataka Home Minister Araga Jnanendra and handed over a copy of the statement I released recently raising questions about possible involvement of Naxals in the planning of Bharat Jodo Yatra Karnataka leg. The Home Minister assured he will carefully examine the matter," Siroya tweeted. In a recent statement, Siroya had asked ten questions to Congress leaders Rahul Gandhi and Siddaramaiah. "Can they confirm that Naxals/Maoists and their sympathisers are not part of the Bharat Jodo Yatra's Karnataka leg? Were these people involved in the planning of the yatra?" Siroya questioned. The BJP MP had also asked that if everything is above board, will Congress leaders seek a probe by Central agencies into the affairs of Naxals/Maoists and their sympathisers in Karnataka?

Netas make beeline to 'Election God' in Gadag

RAGHOTTAM KOPPAR @ Gadag

IT is a common belief that the neta who worships the deity first at the Hanuman temple in Myakalzeri village in Gadag district, is blessed with victory at the hustings.

With the 2023 Assembly elections fast approaching, leaders of various political parties have started visiting the temple to pay obeisance to the famous 'Election God'.

The temple is located 9km from Gajendragad town. Since Myakalzeri is situated north-east of Gadag district, it is considered auspicious. The ritual of either performing puja with nomination papers or launching a campaign from this temple has been going on for the past four decades.

Blessed with victory

It is also believed that whoever worships the deity first, is blessed with victory.

Ron MLA Kalakappa Bandi visited the temple on Wednesday and performed puja. Even for urban and rural local bodies elections, candidates pay a quick and quiet visit to the temple.

In 2008, Bandi of the BJP started his campaign from here and won. In 2013, Congress member G S Patil stood from here and won. The temple ensured victory for Shivakumar Udasi in the 2014 and 2019 general elections.

More than 50 leaders won the Gram Panchayat polls last year after visiting the temple. The early devotee gets the blessings, while the second and third vistors lose, the villagers said.

A villager said: "Leaders from all parties come here to perform puja. Most of them visit at night. Hanuman here is considered 'Election God' but we don't know how this started."

Some BJP leaders from Ron said: "We visited the temple and prayed for our leader's victory. It is a tradition to visit the Hanuman temple before starting anything. Our leader had a meeting with local leaders there."

Seer to CM: Grant 2A reservation to Panchamasalis

Belagavi: Ahead of an all-party meeting called by Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Friday, Basava Jaya Mrutryunjay, seer of Panchamasali Peetha Kudalasangama, has urged the CM to grant '2A reservation' to the Panchamasali community. The seer said a meeting has been called under the leadership of the president of Panchamasali reservation committee and MLA Basangouda Patil Yatnal at Mudalagi. "The fight to get reservation for the Panchamasali community started in Belagavi with a hunger strike in front of Suvarna Vidhana Soudha. Various protests are being planned to pressure the government to listen to our demand," the pontiff said. He said former CM BS Yediyurappa had failed to meet the demands of the community. "Our fight has reached an important stage. If the government fails to take a decision in Friday's meeting, we will plan for a bigger fight," he warned.

A devotee from Karnataka died in a stampede, and at least 70 sustained injuries during the traditional Banni stick fight held at Devaragattu Hills near Sri Malamalleswara Swamy temple in Kurnool district on Wednesday. The victim Ravindra Reddy (17), was a resident of Madasuguru in Karnataka

SPEEDING. Unauthorised lighting system. A doctored speed governor.

The private tourist bus carrying school students that rammed a Kerala State Road Transport Corporation (KSRTC) bus while overtaking near Vadakkenchery on the Palakkad-Thrissur National Highway 544 stretch, resulting in nine deaths, on Wednesday midnight had flouted every safety rule in the book.

That's not all. Joemon, the driver of the private bus who was later taken into custody, also ignored repeated pleas from teachers to slow down.

"Our friends and sir (Vishnu V K) would have been alive had the driver reduced the speed," said Binosh Blessen, a class 10 student of Baselios Vidyanikethan in Ernakulam's Mulanthuruthy, one of the survivors.

Forty-two students – 26 boys and 16 girls – and five teachers were on board the bus, going on an excursion to Ooty. Binosh was sitting in the last row, watching a recently-released Malayalam movie on the TV inside with his friends Abel Philip Paul, Justin Thomas and others. Vishnu, their physical education teacher, was with them. Some others had dozed off.

"As the bus was moving very fast, Vishnu sir went to the driver to tell him to slow down. A few seconds later, the vehicle crashed into the KSRTC bus," said an inconsolable Binosh.

Eyewitnesses said the tourist bus tried to overtake a car, but lost control and hit the Kottarakkara-Coimbatore superfast KSRTC bus. Vishnu and five students died as the bus skid off the road and turned turtle in the impact. Three of 40 passengers of the KSRTC bus were also killed. "We could not understand what was happening. Everything was dark. It took us a moment to realise that we had been in an accident," said Binosh, who exited the bus after breaking the glass.

The front portion of the tourist bus and the rear side of the KSRTC bus were severely damaged in the accident. Many students had to be rescued from under the bus using a crane. Two of the injured persons were treated at Thrissur MCH, while one was treated at Avitis Hospital in Nenmara. None of their injuries were serious.

ASHA S, one of the teachers who was inside the ill-fated tourist bus, was inconsolable on Thursday. Though she survived, Asha had to see the accident snuff the life out of her daughter Anjana Ajith, 17. Anjana was one of the five students who died.

Staff and students of the school recalled that Asha, who taught English, and Anjana used to be seen together in the school almost all the time. Her younger daughter Kalyani Ajith studies in class 6 in the same school. "Asha teacher has lost her student and her daughter," said one of the staffers. Asha joined the team for the excursion after visiting Guruvayoor temple with her family. Kalyani had been taken to her uncle's house in Edappally. She was to accompany her mother while she returned from the trip on Saturday.

PM has expressed grief on the loss of lives due to an accident in Kerala's Palakkad district. He extends condolences to the bereaved families and prays for a quick recovery of the injured. Rs 2 lakh from PMNRF would be given to the next of kin of each deceased. The injured would be given Rs 50,000

3 kids die of suspected food poisoning in TN

SARAVANAN M P @ Tiruppur

THREE children died of suspected food poisoning at a destitute home in Ammapalayam in Thirumuruganpoondi near Tiruppur city on Thursday morning. The condition of 11 other children, who are undergoing treatment at Tiruppur Medical College Hospital, is said to be stable. Police, revenue, social welfare, and child protection authorities have formed four separate teams to probe the incident.

Want to be voice of those clamouring for more respect in Cong: Tharoor

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

AICC presidential candidate Shashi Tharoor on Thursday said he wants to be the voice of those who are clamouring for more respect in the Congress. "We need to empower our grassroots workers at all levels. Currently, all decisions are taken in Delhi and people at the bottom level are just told what they have to do. We want to change that," he said after paying floral tributes to late leader K Kamaraj at his memorial in Guindy, Chennai.

Tharoor said he wanted to represent the dreams and hopes of young India just as Rajiv Gandhi attempted to do 40 years ago and succeeded in his initiation of the telecom revolution and IT revolution. "We need young and old, senior leaders and ordinary workers to join us in this great adventure of making Congress the party of young India," he said.

The Congress leader was in Chennai to seek the support of party functionaries here. He also garlanded the statue of former prime minister Rajiv Gandhi and interacted with functionaries at the TNCC headquarters.

"Ordinary workers want to have more access to the decision-makers in the party. If we empower our workers, they will feel a greater sense of ownership in the party and that is what I want to see happening," Tharoor said in response to a question.

"I am getting an enormous amount of feedback from ordinary party workers, the young people, and delegates from the next generation, which is very gratifying to me because they are the future and they are also the majority of our country. Youth constitute 65% of our population. It is their country. It is a young India. I want Congress to be the party of young India," the Congress MP from Thiruvananthapuram said.

Call us BRS: TRS leaders submit party resolution to EC

ENS @ Hyderabad

A day after transforming Telangana Rashtra Samithi (TRS) into Bharat Rashtra Samithi (BRS), Telangana Chief Minister K Chandrasekhar Rao on Thursday set into motion his next plan of action — spreading the wings of the new party in Maharashtra, to begin with, and seek renaming of the party in the records of Election Commission of India.

Rao, in pursuit of ushering in a qualitative change in governance at the national level and taking the BJP by its horns, changed the name of TRS to BRS. After the change of name, the TRS, which till then represented the zeitgeist of the Telangana movement, acquired a new identity with a national appeal.

On Thursday, at KCR's bidding, State Planning Board vice-chairman B Vinod Kumar called on Deputy Election Commissioner Dharmendra Sharma in Delhi and submitted the TRS general body resolution and a formal letter from the TRS chief K Chandrasekhar Rao. Now, the Election Commission of India has to notify the change of the name of TRS to BRS. "We have submitted the resolution copy and KCR's letter, as per the provisions of the Representation of the People's Act, 1951," Vinod Kumar told reporters later.

No relief for Xiaomi over ₹5,551 cr asset freeze

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Thursday refused to stay FEMA competent authority's confirmation of the Enforcement Directorate's (ED) order to seize Xiaomi Technology India Private Limited's bank assets worth over Rs 5551.27 crore. The competent authority, formed under the Foreign Exchange Management Act, 1999 (FEMA), confirmed the order of the ED to seize the assets of the smartphone company on September 19.

The court orally told Xiaomi that it cannot pass an interim order in favour of the company unless it furnishes a bank guarantee for Rs 5,551.27 crore. It posted the next hearing to October 14, 2022. Contending that that the competent authority passed the order without application of mind and no opportunity was given to examine representatives of a bank, Xiomi questioned constitutional validity of Section 37-A of FEMA on the ground that it is vague as it allows confiscation without adjudication of guilt of violation of FEMA.

The Additional Solicitor General of India M B Naragund, representing ED, contended that Xiaomi has withdrawn substantial amount out of the seized amount and only Rs3,900 is available as balance in the seized account as on October 4, 2022. The company has to approach the appellate authority against the order of the competent authority, he argued.

The competent authority, while confirming the seizure of Rs 5551.27 crore, held that the ED is right in holding foreign exchange equivalent to INR 5551.27 crore which has been transferred out of India by Xiaomi India in an unauthorised manner and is held outside India on behalf of the group entity in contravention of Section 4 of the FEMA and the same is liable to be seized in terms of provisions of Section 37A of the FEMA.

The company unauthorisedly remitted the amount in guise of royalty abroad which constitute violation of Section 4 of the FEMA, the ED claimed.

Illegal mining: HC upholds discharges of 2 retired babus

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka HC has upheld the 2016 order of Special Court for CBI cases in discharging two retired IAS officers and the executives of a mining company in an illegal mining case. The order was passed by Justice K. Somashekar while dismissing the revision petitions filed by the CBI, challenging Special Court's January 30, 2016 order of discharging them from all the charges.

The CBI had challenged the discharge of Ritesh Milapchand Jain, Chief Executive Officer, Rajendra Kumar Jain, Managing Director, Deccan Mining Syndicate Private Limited, Ballari, N Vishwanathan, Retired Additional Chief Secretary and Development Commissioner of Karnataka, SP Raju, Retired Deputy Director, Mines and Geology, Hospet, Shameem Bhanu, Retired Additional Chief Secretary, Department of Commerce and Industries, Ramakant Y Hullar, Circle Inspector of Police, Dharwad. The CBI filed had accused the above of hatching a criminal conspiracy in Bengaluru, Ballari, Hospet and other places in Karnataka during the period 1980-2010 to commit offences of cheating, iron ore theft, criminal trespass, changing the boundaries and criminal misconduct by abuse of their official positions.

"The Special Court has rightly come to the conclusion that there are no sufficient materials/evidence against the accused persons to proceed further in framing of charges and consequently they were discharged from the case. Therefore, in these petitions, there are no merits, or otherwise to say, there is no substance to call for interference of this court and no warranting circumstances have arisen for intervention of the impugned order passed by the trial court", the court said.

K'taka links land survey details of 78 lakh farmers to their Aadhaar cards

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA has reached a major milestone in the field of digitalisation of agriculture sector. The state has linked land survey details of 78 lakh farmers to their Aadhaar numbers, said Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai. He said, with this, Karnataka is the first state in the country to achieve this landmark.

Bommai said that through Bhoomi software, developed by Karnataka government, details of close to 63 lakh farmers and 16 lakh landless farmers were uploaded. Farmers are taking interest in land survey and so far 212 crore plots have been digitalised in Karnataka.

The CM also said that the first nano urea unit has come up in Bengaluru which was introduced to the farmers after a detailed study. Participating in a video conference with Union Home Minister Amit Shah on natural and digital farming, the CM said it is Prime Minister Narendra Modi's dream to double the income of farmers. Karnataka, Maharashtra and Gujarat are the three states which have taken up natural farming.

Karnataka now boasts of five agriculture and horticulture universities and natural farming has taken up 1,000 acres of land under the guidance of varsities. Bommai also said that as many as 2.4 lakh hectares of land is being converted into natural farming from organic farming and an additional one lakh hectare will be converted into natural farming by March 2023.

The CM said 41,434 farmers were selected to take up natural farming. These farmers will make 200 field visits besides attending workshops.

INDIAN EXPRESS IS NOT AN INDUSTRY. IT IS A MISSION.

— Ramnath Goenka

SEMICONDUCTOR INDUSTRY CAN THRIVE UNDER ROBUST NETWORK

India's National Policy on Electronics (NPE) 2019 aims for the electronics industry to achieve a turnover of about ₹33 lakh crore by 2025. But the industry is critically dependent on semiconductors, which are also used in high-demand consumer electronics like mobile phones, laptops, gaming consoles, refrigerators and microwaves. These use semiconductor components like integrated chips, diodes and transistors. According to India Brand Equity Foundation, India is among the largest consumers of electronics products and has the third largest start-up hub in electronics.

The Union government targets to attract ₹18,000 crore investments (2021–22) in the electronics manufacturing segment. This has seen an increasing inflow from companies like Intel and C4V, a lithium-ion cell manufacturer in the USA. However, a lot more needs to be done to achieve such an ambitious turnover target. The Russia-Ukraine conflict served as a lesson. We need to be robust on the industry-supporting infrastructure front, so the supply chains are not disturbed. The conflict impacted the supply of neon and hexafluorobutadiene gases. These gases are essential for manufacturing semiconductor chips used in the lithography processes for chip production, and Russia and Ukraine are the major sources of these gases.

India has taken steps to minimise the impact, but these are largely disconnected from each other. These include the Vedanta-Foxconn investment in Gujarat (much to the chagrin of Maharashtra, which had first set its eyes on it) to set up a semiconductor manufacturing plant. At the same time, an Israeli firm, Tower Semiconductor, and ISMC Digital, announced a $3 billion investment in Karnataka, where Mysuru has been declared a semiconductor cluster. But what is needed is a network of institutions researching and developing the semiconductor industry along the lines of what has taken root in the USA. The Ohio State University is setting up a multi-institutional, interdisciplinary education and research centre—Centre for Advanced Semiconductor Fabrication Research and Education (CAFE)—to advance the fabrication and development of semiconductors and next-generation device technologies. Intel has announced a $3 million funding award for CAFE over three years. India needs a similar network which can provide a stable research base and explore alternatives in case of global upheavals. The demand for electronics goods in India will only increase in the coming years, and we cannot afford to miss the bus.

DEFINE 'CONTEMPT' MORE REASONABLY

The right to free speech and expression in India is a qualified one at best. Among the many fetters upon the right is Damocles' sword of criminal contempt. Criminal contempt of court has been the basis of much discussion in recent years, with prominent personalities including Prashant Bhushan and Kapil Sibal being caught in its net alongside comedians and, more recently, a YouTuber and whistleblower known as Savukku Shankar in Tamil Nadu. According to the Contempt of Courts Act of 1971, criminal contempt refers to any expression that interferes with the due course of judicial proceedings or the administration of justice. It also refers to any expression that "scandalises or tends to scandalise, or lowers or tends to lower the authority of, any court". This last provision is particularly insidious, being open to subjective and arbitrary interpretations that effectively have a chilling effect on the means of any individual to criticise the higher judiciary.

While Shankar's speech may be viewed by many as intemperate, the question arises as to how mere comments on social media can undermine a pillar of the world's largest democracy. Indeed, the judiciary is judged by the people for how it administers justice through its judgments and acts of commission and omission. Surely, a few tweets or videos cannot obscure or diminish the institution to which even the poorest and most marginalised continue to turn. Yet, by forcing a face-off, the Madras High Court cast itself as Goliath to Shankar's David, turning what many would consider a minnow into a martyr.

These confrontations, seemingly more common, do no favours to the higher judiciary, especially as by invoking the most subjective of reasons ("scandalise"), power is accrued and exercised in a manner most opaque. The criminal contempt through "scandalising" the judiciary is a colonial relic that has been abandoned even by the former coloniser. Although the Law Commission, when last asked to examine the provision in 2013, argued in favour of retaining it, the time has come to revisit the question. Ultimately, the power to strengthen and protect the judiciary or weaken and shatter the institution remains entirely in the hands of the judiciary itself.

QUICK TAKE

ATTIRE AND THE SELF

British airline Virgin Atlantic de-genders its uniforms. Male crew can now wear skirts if they wish. Visible tattoos are allowed, and make-up is optional. Virgin wants their 'real' selves at work to increase their mental well-being and create a better customer experience. Individuality trumps gender and spearheads the company's ethos now. The development should allow us to reflect on where we stand. India ironically faces a paradox. For some, even essential clothing is unaffordable. For those who can, religion, caste, patriarchy, a khap or a vigilante can influence their attire. Economic compulsion and societal aggression have individuality in a chokehold.

Too often, India's demographic dividend conversations have focused much on the dependency ratio and not enough on the policies and other factors involved

OUR DEMOGRAPHIC DEBATE NEEDS TO WIDEN

PROSENJIT DATTA

Former editor, commentator on economic issues

SOUMYADIP SINHA

Political leaders, businessmen, and optimistic economic commentators started talking about India's demographic dividend at least a decade ago, if not earlier. But typically, much of the discussions and commentaries have focused on narrow parameters, specifically the "dependent ratio" or the proportion of the dependent population to the working age population. The term demographic dividend was coined by Dr David E Bloom of Harvard University when he published a paper, The Demographic Dividend: A New Perspective on the Economic Consequences of Population Change, along with co-authors David Canning and Jaypee Sevilla in 2003. The paper had looked at the relationship between age structure of populations and a country's historical economic growth across the globe. It pointed out that if a large proportion of a country's population is in the working age group, the added productivity of this group can provide a "demographic dividend" of economic growth—assuming that policies to take advantage of these are in place.

The demographic dividend doesn't last forever. And countries need to reap the benefits of the demographic dividends before they reverse and the working age population becomes smaller than the dependent population. The dependent population conventionally comprises those below 15 years or above 64 years, though currently, a good proportion of 15-year-olds are still studying while a slice of the population older than 64 may still be working actively.

India's dependency ratio—or the ratio of dependent population to working age population—fell below 50% by 2020. It is likely to remain so until 2050 or even 2055. Much will depend on the fall in the fertility rate, the mortality rate and finally the life expectancy of the population over the next couple of decades. But at any rate, while we have lost some time, theoretically we still have some time to reap a dividend and grow consistently at more than 8% for at least two and a half decades. At least that is the rosy picture.

The more realistic image comes after considering four other things. The first three are part of what the original paper by Bloom et al pointed out. The authors said that the right policies were particularly needed in four areas—1) public health 2) family planning 3) education and 4) economic policies that promote labour market flexibility, openness to trade, and savings. All these policies need to be in place well before the demographic bulge in working age population takes place. We have faltered in three of these four. The last one is one other factor—technology innovation and its effect on the labour market which other economists are studying.

Too often, India's demographic dividend conversations have focused too much on the dependency ratio and not enough on the policies and other factors. Some of it was primarily because the benefits of the economic reforms that were initiated in the early 1990s started showing up in the second half of the decade and continued till 2008–10, aided by the global economic boom and economic stimulus.

A high number of reasonably well-educated people joined the workforce at a time when they could take advantage of requirements in the rapid growth of a number of new sectors such as financial services, telecom, IT services, IT-enabled services, etc. At the same time, manufacturing capacities were being set up, rapidly fuelled by rising consumption of goods and general optimism. This created a large number of jobs for less educated labour as well. A construction boom also helped create a huge demand for skilled and semi-skilled manual labour.

However, apart from allowing private sector participation, our healthcare, education, labour and trade policies did not really keep up with what was required. The Union as well as the state governments did not devote the attention or resources that were needed. Nor did we pay enough focused attention to trade or labour flexibility policies, though we are now trying to catch up with lost time. Family planning to an extent worked as can be seen by our recent fertility rate of 2.0%, which is just a tad lower than the 2.1% replacement rate, and is coming down.

Our missteps in the four areas have resulted today in a higher dependent population than would be suggested by the normal dependent ratio calculations.

The dependent ratio has been conventionally seen only through the filter of the working vs non-working population. But that gives a very narrow picture—a more holistic picture is obtained by adding the unemployment rate as well as the Labour Force Participation Rate (LFPR) to the mix. The LFPR looks at the number of people within the working age population who are willing to work. The unemployment rate looks at the people who have failed to find employment despite being willing to work.

In India, the LFPR is far worse than most of our emerging market peers—less than 50% of our working age population is actively looking for work in India. In terms of women in the workforce, the LFPR is particularly bad, hovering just around 25%. Add high unemployment—which has been consistently over 6% since 2019—and you get a better picture of the dependent versus working age population ratio.

Multiple factors have led to the current conditions in LFPR and unemployment in India. Education – Employment opportunity mismatch is one. Many companies, particularly engineering companies, bemoan the lack of candidates who meet their minimum requirements in terms of knowledge even if they have the requisite degrees. Even in manual labour that requires skills, this is sometimes the issue. The revolution in technology—especially digital technology—as well as formalisation taking place in a number of sectors, is another major issue. Technological advances are reducing the labour intensity of most functions. Automation and robotics are reducing the role of manual and even white-collared labour in low knowledge jobs. Formalisation is important but it has also reduced the number of jobs available to the labour pool. Consolidation taking place in sectors also reduces the need for labour in the entire sector.

These trends will only accelerate in the future, so the window of opportunity we have left is rapidly diminishing. And that is why the demographic dividend debate needs to expand.

POLLS GIVE LITTLE HOPE FOR ESTABLISHING ORDER IN NEPAL

MANOJ DAHAL

Associate Editor with Kathmandu-based deshsanchar.com

In an established democracy, the political system may have enough checks to control the damage caused by an act of the highest constitutional authority in the country. But given the fragility of Nepal's political system and proven inadequacies in the Constitution, such an act may have the potential to derail the political process and bring the constitutional apparatus to a state of breakdown.

That is what is happening, with President Bidhya Devi Bhandari refusing to approve the controversial citizenship bill within the mandatory deadline, upsetting the political apple cart of the ruling coalition. The bill, related to citizenship rights for around 5,00,000 people, and non-voting rights to non-resident Nepalis living outside South Asia, lapsed as a result. The ruling coalition had brought the bill when elections to the Federal Parliament and seven provincial legislatures had been finalised, and there were barely a few days left in the Parliament's life. The coalition of two parties—the Nepali Congress that heads the government, and the Communist Party of Nepal-Maoist Centre—was hopeful the bill would help garner support in the densely populated Tarai belt adjoining India, where cross-border settlement is regular, and citizenship is an issue.

In addition, there are officially around 20,000 people of Tibetan origin—stateless—but the bill, if enacted, would have entitled them to Nepali citizenship with all rights. That would have made China suspicious since the US and European countries have pressured the Nepal government to uphold their rights. Bhandari's act has polarised politics, with elections only six weeks away (November 20, 2022). Her act is being challenged by leaders, including Prime Minister Sher Bahadur Deuba, who is also the president of the Nepali Congress, coalition partners, and the Vice President Nanda Kishor Pun. The fact that the normal term of the House of Representatives ended two days before the mandatory 15-day deadline saved her from the ruling coalition moving an impeachment motion in Parliament. But clearly, it was the president's determined posture that she let the bill lapse. She had returned the same bill for review to Parliament a fortnight ago after a wide-ranging consultation with people. When Parliament sent it back to her 'as it was', she simply acted in the manner she wanted.

That was not the sole arbitrary act by President Bhandari, who comes from the Communist Party of Nepal-Unified Marxist Leninist background. This party is in the main Opposition now. A day after the bill lapsed, her pre-recorded video message was played to a conclave in Beijing meant to promote the Geostrategic Initiative mooted by President Xi Jinping, much against the advice given by the Foreign Ministry in Kathmandu. Deuba described the president's act as a gross violation of the Constitution by the 'first defender' of the Constitution.

However, the outpouring of anger and protest among the people was less than expected. Nepal was observing the Dashain festival then, which probably was another factor that was in her favour. Multiple issues, including infighting within most political parties, growing anger of people, and the undeclared detention of Chief Justice Cholendra Shumsher Rana, who technically survived an impeachment motion recently, have cumulatively added to the constitutional crisis in the country.

A confrontation involving the president and prime minister on opposing sides and a judiciary with its Chief Justice under detention are unprecedented situations

Altogether, 97 members of the ruling coalition gave an impeachment notice to Parliament against Rana in early March that, as per established conventions in the country, led to his automatic suspension. Parliament Speaker Agni Sapkota took immediate cognisance of the motion but spent another six months forming a parliamentary committee to examine the issue and decide whether there was merit in the case and whether the House needed to take it up for final disposal. The 11-member committee, by 6–5 majority, decided to forward it to the House, but that came barely 48 hours before the natural demise of the House. Constitutional experts assert that this motion cannot be carried forward to the next House and that it died a natural death when the House term expired.

But the ruling coalition, which believes Rana is sympathetic towards the Opposition, chose to do everything to stop him from going to the Supreme Court and put him under 'house arrest'. A confrontation involving the president and prime minister on opposing sides of a conflict and a judiciary with its Chief Justice under detention are unprecedented situations. Nepal's political process and Constitution are in disarray. With actors and the three constitutional wings of the state engaged in the fight, the system of checks and balances and constitutional equilibrium is gone. Can elections alone check such a rot?

Baburam Bhattarai, a key ideologue of the Maoist insurgency from 1996 that saw 17,000 deaths, announced this week that he would not contest the poll. It is unlikely that other top leaders would heed his appeal to pave the way for younger leadership, but they will face stronger anger when elections near and they set out for campaigning.

Nepal's politics are currently polarised, with the Nepali Congress and Maoists on one side and the CPN-UML led by K P Sharma Oli on the other, and the Tarai-centric regional parties likely to align with either. The Rastriya Prajatantra Party has announced that it will contest all 165 seats for the Federal Parliament with nominal adjustments. It hopes to secure an impressive win among the remaining 110 seats under the proportional representation system with a pledge that it will restore the 'lost Hindu Kingdom' status.

Dethroned King Gynanendra Shah, in his video address to the Nepalis at home and abroad, recently appealed to them to rally around a strong central pole and foil the external and internal designs to turn Nepal into a playground by subverting its culture, civilisation and faith. All is not well here, and the chances of elections restoring constitutional order are slim.

KCR's experiment

KCR renaming his party Bharat Rashtra Samithi is unlikely to have an impact. Although word is that regional parties are favouring this, they may not stand to gain much from it either. If JDS, for instance, contests elections under the banner of BRS, they will mostly lose. Also, Telangana people would probably prefer having a party that caters to their needs rather than a new ideology that caters to one person's wants.

Apropos of Woman beaten to death at Durga puja pandal for not paying subscription (Oct 6). A woman being beaten to death in a Hindu temple disturbs my deep reverence for the religion. How can the temple organisers behave so cruelly towards a devotee? This should not be tolerated. All those who are who are involved in this terrible act must be severely punished.

ECI proposal

The Election Commission's proposal that contesting parties should be made to declare the route map and likely impact of their election promises beforehand is an absurd idea. What can be achieved by gathering loads of proposals from parties, when even manifestos are getting redundant or irrelevant after the polls?

It is wonderful that the Central Consumer Protection Authority has issued a notice to Patanjali Ayurved for misleading advertisements that claimed to cure all sorts of diseases. Consumers must also be more proactive and learn about products.

SC split on appointment of four new judges

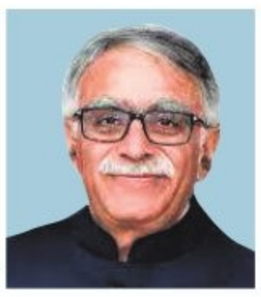
After 2 Collegium members object to his recommendation, CJI is said to have written 2nd letter for new elevations

SHRUTI KAKKAR @New Delhi

WITH less than a month until CJI UU Lalit's retirement and two of the five-member Supreme Court Collegium opposing a proposal to recommend four new judges, including a Supreme Court lawyer, to the top court via written note rather than a formal meeting, Chief Justice of India U U Lalit is said to have written to them again, requesting reconsideration of their position.

The names recommended by Lalit to the four other members are three sitting HC chief justices (Punjab and Haryana High Court Chief Justice Ravi Shankar Jha, Patna High Court Chief Justice Sanjay Karol and Manipur High Court Chief Justice PV Sanjay Kumar) and Senior Advocate KV Viswanathan. Senior Advocate KV Vishwanathan would go on to become the CJI in August 2030 if his name is recommended by collegium and cleared by the government.

Justice Ravi Shankar Jha



Justice Sanjay Karol

Justice PV Sanjay Kumar

Advocate KV Viswanathan

Last week, Lalit in an unprecedented move, had initiated the proposal for the appointment of SC judges by writing a letter to the fellow members in the Collegium, Justices DY Chandrachud, SK Kaul, S Abdul Nazeer and KM Joseph, requesting them to grant their consent to the names proposed by him.

The letter which was received by the judges on Saturday, according to people aware of the development, pointed out that the names that were being proposed were deliberated upon in previous Collegium meetings. The letter was written after the Collegium meeting which was scheduled for September 30 and could not take place due to unavailability of Justice Chandrachud who held the court till 9:10 PM. The meeting which was scheduled for September 30th was supposedly Lalit's last collegium meeting SC went into recess for Dussehra break and will reopen on October 10 and the one month mark would prevent Lalit is set to retire on November 8, 2022 from making recommendations for judicial appointments due to the appointment process for his successor being in gear.

On receipt of the letter, according to the sources the two collegium members, while strongly objecting to CJI's move, had said that appointment to the high constitutional office and as judges of the highest court should never be done through circulation.

According to reports, the two members objected only to the manner in which the recommendations were initiated, not to the merits of the individuals recommended. A fourth judge was said to be away and said that he would respond when he returned.

Further, according to sources familiar with the development, SC collegium headed by CJI UU Lalit in a first had decided to start evaluating judges based on their performance before recommending their elevation to the top court. On September 26, the Collegium recommended to the Centre elevation of Bombay HC's Chief Justice Dipankar Datta as SC judge.

CJI Lalit, who is set to retire on November 8, has very little time on his hands. The government writes to the outgoing CJI about a month before his retirement, and the CJI, in turn, recommends the name of the most senior judge as the successor. When a new name is proposed, the incumbent CJI usually refrains from making decisions on judicial appointments and instead defers to the new CJI.

EC's plan on freebies uncalled for, says Left

PREETHA NAIR @New Delhi

OPPOSING the Election Commission's proposal to amend the Model Code of Conduct for disclosure of funding plans for freebies offered during the polls, the Left Parties said that the move is uncalled for and unwarranted and would affect the independence of the political parties. "The National Secretariat of the CPI disapproves of the latest move of the EC to amend the Model Code of Conduct (MCC) to disclose how the political parties are planning to fund the implementation of the election promises they make to the voters. It is an uncalled for and unwarranted move and will affect the independence of the political parties to decide on their political agenda," a statement of the CPI.

D Raja, general secretary of CPI, said that the EC's mandate is to conduct free and fair elections; it should not encroach on the domain of political parties and legislative bodies.

"Article 327 of the Constitution empowers the Parliament to make laws relating to elections. First ask the PM how he was going to give 15 lakh rupees? (Narendra) Modi government is showering freebies on corporates by writing-off loans, selling national assets & tax concessions. Directive Principles of our Constitution are in the nature of promises made to people. Will ECI question them or ask Dr Ambedkar to explain finances?," Raja tweeted with a news clip on the matter.

Sitaram Yechury, general secretary of the CPI-M, said that it is not the EC's job to regulate policy pronouncements and welfare measures that political parties promise. This is solely the prerogative of political parties in a democracy, he tweeted. "We strongly oppose any effort to circumscribe or regulate the right of political parties to address people's concerns & offer policy measures to ameliorate their problems. EC's proposal is unwarranted," his tweet read.

BJP criticises Cong for 'derogatory' tweet on Murmu

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @New Delhi

GOING ballistic against the Congress, the BJP on Thursday slammed the Congress leadership for promoting "anti-tribal" mindset among its leaders after a "derogatory tweet regarding President Droupadi Murmu" was made on Wednesday.

Congress leader Udit Raj on Wednesday had tweeted in Hindi (translated here): "No country should get a President like Draupadi Murmu ji. 'Chamchagiri' also has its limits. It is said that 70% of people eat salt from Gujarat. If you live eating salt yourself, you will know."

The tweet drew sharp reactions from the ruling BJP, terming it a "reflection" of "anti-tribal mindset" of the Congress. However, Udit Raj later clarified that his statement was of his own and it has nothing to do with the Congress.

Taking a dig at the Congress, BJP leader and senior spokesperson Sambit Patra said: "Words used for President Murmu by Congress leader Udit Raj worrisome and unfortunate. This reflects the anti-tribal mindset of Congress leaders".

Patra further lashed out at the Congress, accusing the party of allowing its leaders to regularly pass such objectionable and derogatory statements. "The Congress leadership should take action against those leaders and should tender an apology," Patra demanded.

Prem Shukla, another senior BJP leader and party spokesperson, also slammed the Congress saying that earlier, Congress leaders Adhir Ranjan Choudhary and Ajay Kumar had made derogatory remarks also. "The Congress leadership is promoting anti-tribal mindset among its leadership. The people belonging to ST community will give a befitting reply to the Congress," Shukla alleged.

Shehzad Poonawalla, another BJP spokesperson, also went hammer and tongs against the Congress over Udit Raj's statement. "The Congress is 'insulting' India's first tribal woman President by allowing such derogatory statements by its leaders. The nation will not forgive the Congress," he alleged. He demanded immediate expulsion of Udit Raj from the Congress.

Meanwhile, the National Commission for Women also issued summon to Udit Raj for his objectionable statement. NCW chairman Rekha Sharma termed the statement 'highly objectionable' against Supreme Authority.

SC asks states, UTs to submit welfare record of old people

SHRUTI KAKKAR @New Delhi

TAKING a step closer towards care for senior citizens, the Supreme Court recently directed the states & UT's to file a report related to pension, old age and geriatric care schemes which are operating for the welfare of the elderly.

A bench of Justices Aniruddha Bose and Sudhanshu Dhulia while considering a plea filed by Dr Ashwini Kumar seeking enforcement of rights of elderly persons also asked the states and UT's to also disclose status as regards implementation of the Maintenance and Welfare of Parents and Senior Citizens Act.

In 2018, the SC had asked the Union to obtain necessary information from all the state governments and UT's about the number of old age jokes in each district of the country, medical facilities and geriatric care facilities available to senior citizens in each district. It had also asked the centre to relook at the schemes related to pension of elders. "Right to live with dignity is, in effect, a part of the right to life as postulated in Article 21 of the Constitution. Such a right would be rendered meaningless if an aged person does not have the financial means to take care of his basic necessities and has to depend for it on others," the court had also observed.

During the pandemic, the SC in Kumar's plea had directed states to pay pension regularly to all old age people who were eligible for pension and also provide them with necessary medicines, masks, sanitisers and other essential goods. Court had also asked caregivers of the people in old age homes to provide personal protection and ensure appropriate sanitisation.

Scheduling the matter for further hearing in January next year, the top court said: "Let copies of this order be sent by the Registry to the Chief Secretary of each State and the Union Territories for onward compliance of the directions contained in this order."

The petitioner had sought a direction for the effective implementation of the Maintenance and Welfare of Parents and Senior Citizens Act, 2007.

The Court had also directed that the Government of India to issue appropriate directions to the State Government for effective implementation of the MWP Act.

'Compassion job can't go to married daughter'

The SC has recently observed that a married daughter cannot be said to be dependent on her deceased mother to be appointed on compassionate grounds. A bench of Justices MR Shah and Krishna Murari said, to appoint the respondent now on compassionate ground shall be contrary to the object and purpose of appointment. "The respondent cannot be said to be dependent on the deceased employee, i.e., her mother. She shall not be entitled to appointment on compassionate ground," the court said.

To examine status of minority institutes

The SC has agreed to examine whether an educational institution administered by members of a minority community would result in it being conferred the status of a minority institution. The bench of the UP government, National Commission for Minority Educational Institutions, others.

'Interim bail pleas not for money recovery'

The pleas seeking pre-arrest bail are not 'money recovery proceedings' and imposing the condition on the accused of paying interim relief to the victim for such a relief is unjustified, the SC has said. The SC made the observations while hearing such bail pleas of an estranged husband.

Not in cheetah task force, miffed wildlife official goes on leave

CHANDAN NANDY @New Delhi

MIFFED for being excluded from the nine-member Cheetah Task Force, which was reconstituted recently, Wildlife Institute of India Dean and scientist Dr Yadvendradev Jhala, who played a leading role in bringing eight cheetahs from Namibia to the Madhya Pradesh Kuno National Park last month, has proceeded on leave. WII sources said that Jhala, who was heading a small team of researchers from his institute in observing the cheetahs, besides collecting data and studying the felines' adaptability and behaviour in their respective quarantine bomas or enclosures at KNP, may return to rejoin the ongoing work before the animals are released into larger enclosures on or around October 17.

"At the moment there is complete uncertainty and we hope he returns to resume the observation of the cheetahs," a WII source said. Jhala left KNP this morning after learning that his name was not included in the CTF which, in the days and weeks to come, will perform a number of crucial technical tasks. He will, however, take part in a Tiger Project meeting in Dehradun.

The CTF's mandate includes monitoring the cheetahs while in quarantine to their release into the next larger enclosures to their final move into KNP's wilds. Jhala's exclusion from the CTF could also potentially hit the government's move to introduce 12 more cheetahs (from South Africa) to KNP. "Jhala's non-inclusion in the CTF is a matter between the National Tiger Conservation Authority (NTCA) and the government," a senior Madhya Pradesh forest official said. Admitting that Jhala is on leave, an NTCA source asked, "How can a person monitor his own work? Is this possible?"

Since his appointment on the first CTF in 2009, Jhala has played a leading role in the return of cheetahs to India. In November 2021, Jhala led a broad-based team to draft a comprehensive 310-page 'Action Plan for Introduction of Cheetah in India (With Emphasis on the First Release Site — Kuno National Park'.

Along with the then Wildlife Trust of India chairman Dr M K Ranjitsinh, Jhala authored 'Assessing the Potential for Reintroducing the Cheetah in India' in 2010. Instead of Jhala, the NTCA chose to appoint WII Co-Principal Investigator and Scientist Dr Vishnupriya Kolipakam.

Setback to bring more cheetahs?

Jhala's exclusion from the CTF could also potentially hit the government's move to introduce 12 more cheetahs (from South Africa) to KNP

Govt starts enhancing breeding of Great Indian Bustard in Rajasthan

CHANDAN NANDY @New Delhi

AFTER successfully translocating eight Namibian cheetahs in Madhya Pradesh's Kano National Park (KNP), the Centre has accelerated a process to "scale up manifold the technical and scientific" support to enhance the breeding of the "critically endangered" Great Indian Bustard (GIB), a top Ministry of Environment and Forests and Climate Change (MoEFCC) said here today.

In pursuit of the ambitious GIB project, a three-member team led by MoEFCC Minister Bhupender Yadav earlier this month visited Abu Dhabi to experience first-hand the world's largest Houbara Bustard conservation facility and to follow-up on a memorandum of understanding (MoU) signed on September 3 between India and the UAE for the latter to provide technological and scientific support to the project.

The GIB, whose scientific name is Ardeotis nigriceps, is highly endangered and its small population of 125-150 is confined mostly to parts of Rajasthan and a few in Gujarat in western India with scattered numbers in Maharashtra, Karnataka and Andhra Pradesh.

Dr S P Yadav, Additional Director General of Forests (Project Tiger) and Member Secretary of the National Tiger Conservation Authority (NTCA), who was part of the team that visited Abu Dhabi, said, "Two conservation facilities at Ramdevra and Samm in Jaisalmer have been set up for scaling up the breeding of the highly endangered, large bird". The third member on the team was Director General of Forests and MoEFSS Special Secretary C P Goyal. Yadav said that the Houbara facility's success is measured by the fact that in the last 40 years it released nearly 630,000 bustards in the wild. These bustards live in vast plains and semi-arid regions in pebbly and sandy deserts with scattered vegetation cover, features which are also found across the GIB's habitat in India.

The Houbara bustard was earlier considered a single species with separate populations but recent studies have shown that the birds in Asia and North Africa were distinct species. Both the Great Indian and Houbara bustards forage for plants, insects, small rodents and lizards that provide enough fluid to adapt to arid conditions.

Officials from the International Fund for Houbara Conservation will soon visit the GIB facilities at Ramdevra and Samm, besides areas in southern Indian, to study how best to share information and provide material assistance to increase the numbers and extent of the critically endangered species.

UGC launches Cyber Security Course syllabus

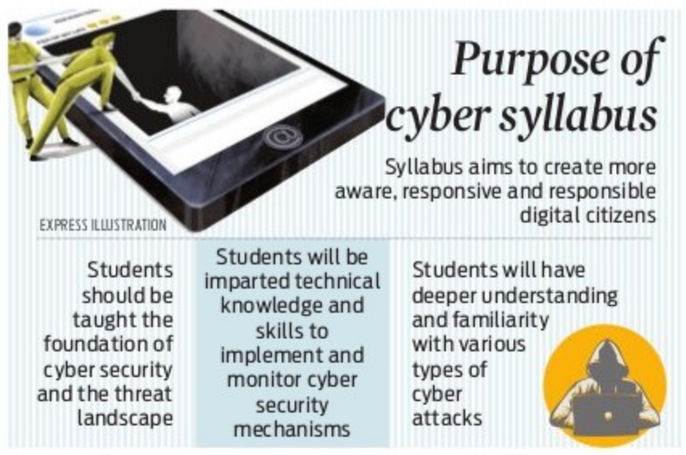
KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @New Delhi

THE University Grants Commission (UGC) on Thursday launched the Cyber Security Course syllabus at the undergraduate and postgraduate levels. Rolling out the curriculum, UGC Chairman Professor M. Jagadesh Kumar said, "the syllabus aims to create more aware, responsive and responsible digital citizens, thereby contributing effectively to an overall healthy cybersecurity posture and ecosystem."

He said that the importance of cyber security due to the increased dependency and use of cyberspace by all of us in our personal and professional lives could not be overemphasised.

"One of the key actions for preventing cyber crimes is to generate sustained awareness among the public, especially among the vulnerable sections and groups, on cyber hygiene," Kumar told this newspaper.

The proposed syllabus gives broad guidelines, and teachers who would teach the subject will have enough flexibility to balance time vis-a-vis depth of coverage.



Purpose of cyber syllabus
Syllabus aims to create more aware, responsive and responsible digital citizens
Students should be taught the foundation of cyber security and the threat landscape
Students will be imparted technical knowledge and skills to implement and monitor cyber security mechanisms
Students will have deeper understanding and familiarity with various types of cyber attacks
EXPRESS ILLUSTRATION

According to the UGC, students should be taught the foundation of cyber security and the threat landscape to equip them with technical knowledge and skills to implement and monitor cyber security mechanisms to protect information technology assets.

Further, after completing the degree program, students will be able to understand the cyber security threat landscape and develop a deeper understanding and familiarity with various types of cyber attacks, cyber crimes, vulnerabilities and remedies.

Kumar said UGC has been making sustained efforts towards creating cyber security awareness amongst Higher Educational Institutes (HEIs). The UGC said that HEIs might invite cyber security, computer, IT qualified faculty or other experts from industry and subject matter experts to take the lectures, practicals and tutorials.

To celebrate the Cyber Jaagrookta Diwas 2022, the UGC organised a webinar on Thursday in which a presentation on the prevention of cybercrime and adoption of cyber hygiene was made by Deepak Virmani, Deputy Secretary, Indian Cyber Crime Coordination Centre, Ministry of Home Affairs.

The Indian Cyber Crime Coordination Centre of the Ministry of Home Affairs (MHA) has been launched to strengthen the capabilities of law enforcement agencies (LEAS) and improve coordination among the LEAS and other agencies.

The MHA has also launched the National Cyber Crime Reporting Portal (NCRP) to facilitate online reporting of cybercrime incidents.

The home ministry has requested all the states and union territories to observe the Cyber Jaagrookta (Awareness) Diwas (CJD)on the first Wednesday of every month in all the schools, colleges, universities, Panchayati Raj Institutions (PRIs) and municipalities.

The UGC has also requested HEIs not only to celebrate Cyber Jaagrookta Diwas (CJD) but also to appoint Chief Information Security Officer (CISO) at their institutions.

16 bodies found, hunt on for trainee climbers in U'khand

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

BODIES of 16 trainee climbers have been recovered so far in rescue operations for 29 of them who went missing on Tuesday after being hit by an avalanche at Draupadi-ka-Danda peak in Uttarkashi.

The Uttarkashi administration has banned trekking and mountaineering activities for three days following an alert sounded by the meteorological department against rain and snow. A 14-memeber team from the High Altitude Warfare School from J&K's Gulmarg is also engaged in the rescue work. Speaking to this paper, Dr Vishal Ranjan, Registrar, Nehru Institute of Mountaineering Uttarkashi, said the search operation gained momentum after the HAWS team joined the operation on Thursday. The rescue work is focused on looking for the remaining 13 trainee climbers trapped in snow after the avalanche. Rescue agencies such as the National Disaster Response Force (NDRF), SDRF, ITBP, the Army and the local police and administration are engaged in the 24x7 operation.

He said in all there were 61 climbers. "After the avalanche hit the team on Tuesday, 29 members of the team were buried in the snow-covered crevices. Of the 29, the bodies of 16 have been recovered, including those of two trainers. A search is on for the remaining 13 climbers," said Ranjan. Eight helicopters of the IAF and SDRF were engaged in search operations throughout the day on Thursday. Apart from two women climbers – Savita Kanswal and Navami Rawat -- the rest of the bodies could not be identified. All the bodies have been brought to the NIM base camp, where they will be handed over to their families after identification.

Army man saves four trainees

Even as body count continued, a tale of heroism emerged from the tragedy. Instructor Subedar Anil Kumar, who belongs to Rajasthan and posted at NIM on deputation, narrated how he pulled out four trainee climbers alive from the avalanche-hit area.The Subedar comes from the Indian Army's 8-Mahar Regiment. Kumar, along with another instructor, had climbed the 17,000-ft peak and was trying to scale further when a gigantic rock of ice unleashed its fury on the trainees. He said many climbers were buried under the snow as he held on to his position, desperately trying to help the fellow climbers. "I could see someone's arms or toes jutting out of the snow," he recalled. The Subedar in a daring action pulled out not one but four trainees alive from crevices.

A day after, parties join Sena duel

Shinde seems to have scored over Uddhav, but ex-CM has made an impact with his rhetoric

SUDHIR SURYAWANSH @ Mumbai

MAJOR political parties in Maharashtra on Thursday joined the Sena-versus-Sena duel, a day after both Sena factions – one led by Uddhav Thackeray and another by CM Eknath Shinde – held Dussehra rallies where they railed against each other, claiming to have put up a better show than the other.

The state Congress said Shinde "harangued" for 90 minutes in his Dussehra address while Uddhav spoke for 37 minutes. The party gave full marks to its ally, saying Uddhav was spontaneous in his Shivaji Park speech in Dadar whereas Shinde's speech appeared "scripted by the BJP."

The BJP defended Shinde calling it the "real Shiv Sena," saying that for the BJP, the dispute over Sena leadership was over. Interesting turnout figures came out from the local police report. It said the Uddhav rally drew between 60,000 and 75,000 people. However, more than a lakh people attended Shinde's rally at Bandra Kurla Complex (BKC). The capacity of the BKC ground is more than at Shivaji Park.

It was for the first time that a non-Thackeray pulled such an impressive crowd in Mumbai.

In his speech, Uddhav tried to focus on three major points: his faction left the BJP, but not the Hindutva, the BJP was to blame for inflations and the rise in unemployment and third, the Shinde camp was nothing but a deception to con the Shiv Sainiks and the people.

Uddhav also tried to draw the attention of the Muslim voters by raising the Bilkis Bano case where rapists were reportedly felicitated by BJP supporters in Gujarat.

On the other hand, CM Shinde sought to outmanoeuvre Uddhav by inviting Thackeray's relatives to his rally in an attempt to portray his leadership of the party.

Shinde continued to speak for almost 90 minutes and stopped at 10pm – the deadline given by the Supreme Court for night programmes and speeches. He tried to convince the crowd that they had taken the right decision by revolting against Uddhav to protect Balasaheb Thackeray's Hindutva ideology.

He said Uddhav Thackeray and his son Aditya are the heirs to Balasaheb Thackeray's property, but they were not the ideological successor of Balasaheb. Maharashtra deputy CM Devendra Fadnavis said the huge crowd at Shinde's rally "cleared the doubts" about the real Shiv Sena. "Eknath Shinde is the real heir of Balasaheb Thackeray's Hindutva legacy. That's why such a larger number of people flocked to his rally. The dispute involving the Shiv Sena is over for us. Shinde's faction is the real Sena now," Fadnavis said. At both rallies, Balasaheb was the centre point of speeches. However, Shinde also praised RSS and BJP for supporting him.

Shinde's long winding speech, apparently, became monotonous to the gathered crowd as people were seen leaving the rally before the CM could conclude his speech. Two MLAs too left the rally early. Many Sena supporters used to the fiery and extempore speeches of the Thackerays did not like Shinde reading out his speech.

In a way, people said, Shinde was successful in getting the big crowd, but he was unable to connect with the people. Uddhav's speech was crisp and pulled no punches in its rhetoric. Shiv Sena MLC Bhaskar Jadhav said the crowd at Shinde's rally might be a little more, but "all know that it was a paid crowd".

Maharashtra Congress chief Nana Patole echoed the same charge. "Shinde repeatedly praised the BJP and RSS, which shows that he is nothing but a BJP puppet," said Patole.

"The energetic crowd at Shivaji Park is a morale booster for Uddhav Thackeray ahead of BMC elections. The BJP tried to make Thackeray minus Sena, but by playing an emotional card, Uddhav may bounce back," said senior analyst Sachin Parab.

Dussehra Rally Face-off

The 90-minute speech of CM Eknath Shinde read out by him was 'monotonous' and many people were seen leaving the ground before he could conclude. However, a police report said the turnout at his rally was nearly one lakh, much more than what Uddhav's rally could draw

Uddhav Thackeray spoke for 37 minutes and his speech was punctuated with sarcasm that rejected all claims by Shinde for being the real successor of Balasaheb Thackeray's legacy. His speech was crisp and carried more impact, observers said

'Charming' remark lands Sahu in trouble

The National Commission of Women took notice of remarks made by Home Minister Tamradhwaj Sahu about senior BJP politician Saroj Pandey. The minister stated that while Pandey's charming face can be seen alongside the photos she took to highlight poor road conditions, she should also take photos of attractive, smooth roads in other places. On social media, Pandey had posted pictures of "pathetic" roads. She called Sahu's remarks "sexist." She sent a letter to Sonia Gandhi, requesting that Sahu be punished. Rekha Sharma, chief of NCW, criticised the minister's comment. It is uncertain whether the minister will submit a written justification or apology, as requested by the NCW.

Senior cop held for ₹1 cr bribe; 2 more in police net

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

PUNJAB Vigilance Bureau on Thursday arrested Assistant Inspector General of Police (AIG) Ashish Kapoor, now posted as Commandant of 4th IRB at Pathankot, for taking a bribe of ₹1 crore. Earlier, Kapoor was AIG of Vigilance Bureau.

Deputy Superintendent of Police (Intelligence) Pawan Kumar and Assistant Sub Inspector Harjinder Singh have also been named as accused in the case.

Kapoor has been booked under sections 7, 7-A (Prevention of Corruption Act) and 420, 120-B of the IPC.

During his posting as Superintendent Jail at Central Jail, Amritsar in 2016, Kapoor had befriended a lady named, Poonam Rajan of Kurukshetra, Haryana, who was under judicial remand in the jail. Poonam's family members, including her mother Prem Lata, brother Kuldeep Singh and sister-in-law Preeti, were in police remand in Zirakpur. Kapoor went to the police station and convinced Poonam's mother to help her get bail and acquittal from the court.

Kapoor, in connivance with Pawan Kumar, the then SHO, police station Zirakpur and ASI Harjinder Singh, got the sister-in-law of Poonam declared innocent in the case. In lieu of that favour, Kapoor obtained signatures of Prem Lata on different cheques amounting to ₹1 crore and deposited them under the names of his known ones and got them encashed through ASI Harjinder Singh.

He said by doing so, the accused Ashish Kapoor, Pawan Kumar and Harjinder Singh have committed offences under Prevention of Corruption Act and 420, 120-B of IPC and have been named as accused in the case.

Show-cause deadline for 3 Cong leaders ends, Raj crisis continues

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

THE 10-day deadline to three senior Congress leaders in Rajasthan to respond to the AICC notice ended on Thursday and brought back the focus on what action the Congress high command would take on the case related to the rebellion by pro-Ashok Gehlot MLAs two weeks ago. Amid the uncertainty over the future of CM Gehlot, all eyes are focused on Bharat Jodo Yatra, where Sonia Gandhi and Rahul Gandhi are likely to take a final decision.

The Congress high command had issued notices to Chief Whip Mahesh Joshi, Parliamentary Affairs Minister Shanti Dhariwal and RTDC Chairman Dharmendra Rathod for their role in the boycott by pro-Gehlot MLAs of the Congress Legislature Party meeting on September 25 in Jaipur. There have been doubts about their replies to the show cause notices, but Dhariwal said, "A reply has been sent, but what has been answered cannot be made public."

Joshi said he got to know about the notice only through the media and claimed that he hasn't received any such notice through either mail or by post so far. Rathod, too, echoed similar views.

It may be recalled that before the CLP meeting for picking up a new CM in Jaipur on September 25, pro-Gehlot MLAs were called by Joshi at the residence of Dhariwal. At Dhariwal's residence, the pro-Gehlot MLAs had decided that they would boycott the CLP meeting for which two AICC observers Ajay Maken and Mallikarjun Kharge had arrived in Jaipur. Later, the pro-Gehlot MLAS had given their resignations to Assembly Speaker CP Joshi to register their protest against changing the Rajasthan CM.

While political circles of Rajasthan debate about what action will be taken on the notices to three prominent leaders, the turmoil over the post of CM persists. A visit of former Deputy CM Sachin Pilot to the house of cabinet minister Pratap Singh Khachariawas, considered close to Gehlot, is a hot topic of discussion.

Meanwhile, Sachin Pilot, has returned to Delhi. His hopes are now pinned on the Rahul and Sonia meeting in Karnataka which may lead to some decision on the Rajasthan Congress crisis.

Shah plans to visit JP's birthplace, Tejashwi says BJP in tight spot in Bihar

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

BIHAR deputy chief minister Tejashwi Yadav on Thursday took a dig at Union Home Minister Amit Shah's proposed visit to the state on October 11 by asserting that BJP was in a tight spot in the state.

Shah will be visiting Sitab Diara village in Saran district on October 11 to attend revolutionary leader Jai Prakash Narayan's birth anniversary.

It will be Shah's second visit to the state within 17 days. Earlier, he had visited two major places of Muslim-dominated Seemanchal region of the state-Kishanganj and Purnea. In his first visit, Shah had attacked Bihar Chief Minister Nitish Kumar for snapping ties with BJP.

Tejashwi said, "The BJP is in a tight spot in Bihar. It is the reason BJP leaders are touring the state." "Everybody has the right to come to Bihar. What can you do if somebody wants to come to Bihar but Amit Shah will not be able to make any mark here," he added.

Earlier, Nitish while undermining the importance to Shah's visit had said that everybody enjoyed the liberty of going to any part of the country in democracy and so everybody was independent to visit Bihar also. "He (Amit Shah) should also find out how much work his government has done for the improvement of the native place of JP."

Bihar minister Tej Pratap Yadav, who is also the elder brother of Tejashwi said, "Amit Shah has started liking Bihar and so visiting the state time and again. After quitting BJP, Shah will join RJD as his only intention to visit Bihar at frequent intervals is to join my party."

Patil names candidates at public rallies in Gujarat

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

AHEAD of elections in Gujarat, state BJP president CR Patil has started announcing party candidates in public gatherings in growing signs of the state unit showing functional autonomy free from the 'high command' culture.

Patil's move was apparent at 'Shastra-Pujan' held at Chanasma town in north Gujarat on Wednesday where he indicated that only he would decide and announce the party candidates. Political analysts weigh that remark against Patil's earlier assertion in Anand during a public meeting that PM Narendra Modi and Home Minister Amit Shah would decide the party ticket. The U-turn could have something to do with the party's fresh estimation of the current scenario within the party, they said.

On Wednesday Patil dropped enough hints that Alpesh Thakor, would be the party's candidate from the Radhanpur assembly constituency. "Alpesh bhai is our senior leader. We want him to contest the election and win the seat" he said.

In 2017, Alpesh led the OBC movement in Gujarat and contested from Radhanpur seat (Patan) on a Congress ticket and won against BJP's Lovingji Solanki. Later he joined the BJP and contested the 2019 by-election from the same seat, but lost to Congress' Raghu Desai.

Similarly, Patil announced the second name at a gathering in north Gujarat's Harij, Dilip Thakor. "Dilip bhai, keep yourself ready for the poll battle," Patil said, adding Thakor was a senior party leader.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mumbai

Herd of buffaloes intrudes into Vande Bharat track, damages its metal nose

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

IT was speed versus an Indian reality: Less than a week after the semi-high-speed train Vande Bharat was flagged off by PM Modi, it met with an accident on Thursday after a herd of buffaloes came on its way Thursday morning. The train's front metal nose was damaged, railway sources said. The Vande Bharat Express runs between Mumbai Central and Gandhinagar.

The accident occurred around 11.15 am between Vatva station and Maninagar in Gujarat. Western Railway spokesperson JK Jayant said "A herd of buffaloes came on the railway line around 11.15 am between Vatva station to Maninagar. The accident damaged the front part of the engine, no functional part was damaged in the incident." No casualty was reported, he added.

Jayant said engineers repaired the damaged part immediately, and the train moved just after removing the carcasses. "It reached on time at Gandhinagar. The railways will counsel nearby villagers not to leave the cattle near the rail track," he said.

PM Modi flagged off the semi-high-speed train on Sept 30, and traveled by it from Gandhinagar to Kalupur railway station in Ahmedabad.

The Vande Bharat Express 2.0 will provide passengers with aircraft-like services and safety features, including an anti-collision 'Kavach' protection. Head-on collisions between trains can now be prevented.

According to a statement issued by the Gujarat CM's office said the train has Level-II Safety Integration Certification for better train control management, four platform-side cameras, aspiration-based fire detection and suppression system in all coaches, besides aerosol-based fire detection in electrical cubicles and washrooms.

Semi-high-speed train flagged off on Sept 30

Former cop attacks Thai day care; kills at least 37, including 23 kids

34-year-old suspect was due in court today for possession of methamphetamine, a drug

BANGKOK

A former Thai police officer armed with a gun and a knife killed at least 37 people in northeast Thailand on Thursday, most of them children at a nursery, in one of the kingdom's deadliest mass killings.

Following the attack, the 34-year-old gunman Panya Khamrab went home and killed his wife and child before taking his own life, police said.

A witness said staff at the day care locked the door when they saw the assailant approaching with a gun, but he shot his way in.

"The teacher who died, she had a child in her arms," a witness said. "I didn't think he would kill children, but he shot at the door and shot right through it."

National Police Chief Damrongsak Kittiprapat told a news conference the gunman had killed 37 people, including 23 children and his own family, and wounded 12 others. Police Maj. Gen. Paisal Luesomboon said that Khamrab was fired from the force earlier this year because of drug charge.

In a Facebook posting, Damrongsak said the man, who had been a sergeant, was due in court on Friday for a hearing in the case involving methamphetamine possession and speculated that he may have chosen the day care because it was close to his home.

He said the attacker was in a manic state but it was unknown whether it was drug-related.

"What happened today will be a lesson to prevent this happening again in the future," he said. Earlier, Damrongsak told reporters that the main weapon used was a 9mm pistol that the man had purchased himself.

Thailand's PM Prayut Chan-o-cha, who plans to travel to the scene on Friday, told reporters that initial reports were that the former officer was having personal problems.

Mass shootings are rare but not unheard of in Thailand, which has one of the highest civilian gun ownership rates in Asia, with 15.1 weapons per 100 population compared to only 0.3 in Singapore and 0.25 in Japan. Agencies

Three dead in floods after school wall collapse

At least three people died in Indonesia on Thursday after a flood in capital Jakarta surged into a school and caused a wall to collapse, a police official told local media. The Greater Jakarta metropolitan region houses around 30 million people and is regularly hit by floods in the rainy season. "According to the information we received, three people died," Multazam Lisendra, police chief of Cilandak district in south Jakarta, told Kompas TV. "For the cause, it needs to be investigated further, but the initial assumption is that there is so much pressure from the overflowing river that pushed and knocked down the school's wall. The water overflowed into the school," he said. Footage on various social media platforms showed some teenage students crying in panic while trying to evacuate from the school, submerged in waist-deep waters

Minister worried about finding foreign nurses

One key challenge for Singapore is to find enough foreign nurses to supplement local ones to care for the growing number of the elderly population as the health care system will require 24,000 of them by 2030, Health Minister Ong Ye Kung has told Parliament. Singaporeans and permanent residents make up about 72% of Singapore's pool of registered and 63% enrolled nurses. The rest are from the Philippines, Malaysia, China, India, Myanmar and other countries. Acknowledging the heightened competition for nurses, Ong added that the ministry is supportive of a suggestion by Nominated MP and breast surgeon Tan Yia Swam of granting permanent residency to good performers. Singapore is ramping up the nursing homes' bed capacity to 31,000 beds by 2030 from 16,200 now

22 dead after two migrant ships sink at a Greek island

KYTHIRA

BODIES floated amid splintered wreckage in the wind-tossed waters off a Greek island on Thursday as the death toll from the separate sinkings of two migrant boats rose to 22, with many still missing.

The vessels went down hundreds of miles apart, in one case prompting a dramatic overnight rescue effort as island residents and firefighters pulled shipwrecked migrants to safety up steep cliffs.

The shipwrecks further stoked tension between neighbours Greece and Turkey, who are locked in a heated dispute over maritime boundaries and migration.

Greek Prime Minister Kyriakos Mitsotakis voiced "deep sorrow for the tragic loss of life," and praised rescuers' "heroic" efforts.

The coast guard on Greece's eastern island of Lesbos said the bodies of 16 young African women, a man and a boy were recovered after a dinghy carrying about 40 people sank. Ten women were rescued, while 12 other migrants were believed to be missing. The last body to be recovered, of a man, was found by divers from the EU's Frontex border agency.

The bodies of at least four migrants were seen amid floating debris from the yacht under the cliffs. The deaths would be officially recorded when the bodies were recovered, officials said. They added that 80 people, from Iran, Iraq and Afghanistan, had been rescued while a search continues for as many as 11 still believed to be missing. AP

COURAGE & CLINICAL ACUITY

ANNIE ERNAUX WINS NOBEL PRIZE IN LITERATURE

STOCKHOLM

FRENCH author Annie Ernaux, who has mined her own biography to explore life in France since the 1940s, was awarded this year's Nobel Prize in literature on Thursday for work that illuminates murky corners of memory, family and society.

Ernaux's autobiographical books explore deeply personal experiences and feelings – love, sex, abortion, shame within a changing web of social and class relationships. The author strongly defended women's rights to abortion and contraception in some of her first comments after winning the prize.

Much of her material came out of her experiences being raised in a working-class family in the Normandy region of northwest France.

The Swedish Academy said Ernaux, 82, was recognised for "the courage and clinical acuity" of her writing.

French author Annie Ernaux | AP

Anders Olsson, chairman of the Nobel literature committee, said Ernaux is "an extremely honest writer who is not afraid to confront the hard truths."

Ernaux is just the 17th woman among the 119 Nobel literature laureates and is the first French literature laureate since Patrick Modiano in 2014. She told Swedish broadcaster SVT that the award was "a great honour" and "a very great responsibility."

Her more than 20 books, most of them very short, chronicle events in her life and the lives of those around her. They present uncompromising portraits of sexual encounters, abortion, illness and deaths of her parents.

Ernaux describes her style as 'flat writing'—aiming for an very objective view of the events she is describing, unshaped by florid description or overwhelming emotions.

Ernaux worked as a teacher before becoming a full-time writer. Her first book was "Cleaned Out" in 1974. Two more autobiographical novels followed—"What They Say Goes" and "The Frozen Woman"—before she moved to more overtly autobiographical books. AP

UNHRC resolution raps Sri Lanka, India abstains

YESHI SELI @New Delhi

INDIA on Thursday abstained on a draft resolution at the UN Human Rights Council meeting in Geneva on promoting reconciliation, accountability and human rights in Sri Lanka, which was adopted.

The resolution on 'Promoting reconciliation, accountability and human rights in Sri Lanka' was adopted at the 51st Session of Human Rights Council, with 20 nations voting in favour in the 47-member Council, seven against, including China and Pakistan, and 20 abstentions, including by India, Japan, Nepal and Qatar.

India said it will work with Lanka and the international community to attain the objectives of legitimate aspirations of Tamils of Sri Lanka and prosperity for all Sri Lankans.

"As an immediate neighbour, India has substantively contributed to the relief, rehabilitation, resettlement and reconstruction process in Sri Lanka after 2009. More recently, since January this year, India has stepped up and provided unprecedented assistance to the people of Sri Lanka to face the challenges of the recent economic crisis," said Indra Mani Pandey, India's permanent representative to the UN, Geneva.

The 20 countries that voted in favour of the resolution included, the UK, the US, Argentina, Finland, France, Germany, Mexico, the Netherlands, Paraguay, Poland, Republic of Korea and Ukraine.

"While we have taken note of the commitments... on issues of implementation of the commitments in the spirit of the 13th Constitutional Amendment, meaningful devolution and the early conduct of provincial elections, "we believe that the progress towards the same remains inadequate," Pandey added.

'Deliberate' Russian strikes hit Ukraine's Zaporizhzhia

ZAPORIZHZHIA

RUSSIAN strikes battered the central Ukraine city of Zaporizhzhia on Thursday, authorities said, in fatal attacks that tore through high-rise buildings and left a toddler injured.

Ukraine's Foreign Minister Dmytro Kuleba slammed the strikes, saying that "Russians keep deliberately striking civilians to sow fear. Russian terror must be stopped—by force of weapons, sanctions and full isolation," he said.

The region's Ukraine-appointed governor initially said two people had died after seven bombardments but local emergency service reported that three people had been killed.

Firefighters were working to extinguish a blaze from a collapsed section of a building with pieces of jagged metal protruding.

"Seven people were injured with varying degrees of severity. They are being treated, including one three-year-old child", governor Oleksandr Starukh said on social media. Shortly after, he said there was a second bout of incoming fire but gave no details.

Meanwhile, Ukraine said it had recaptured over 400 square kilometres in Kherson in less than a week. "The Armed Forces of Ukraine have liberated more than 400 square kilometres of the Kherson region since the beginning of October," Ukrainian southern army command spokeswoman said.

Also, the EU on Thursday imposed a fresh round of sanctions on Russia, expanding import/export bans and blacklisting individuals over Moscow's annexation of four Ukrainian regions. AFP

Myanmar sentences Japanese journalist to prison on 2 charges

A court in military-ruled Myanmar has sentenced a Japanese journalist to prison after he filmed an anti-government protest in July, a Japanese diplomat and the Southeast Asian nation's government said on Thursday

CHARGES AGAINST TORU KUBOTA

Toru Kubota was sentenced to seven years for violating the electronic transactions law and three years for incitement, said Tetsuo Kitada, deputy chief of mission of the Japanese Embassy. The sentences were to be served concurrently

The electronic transactions law covers offenses that involve spreading false or provocative information online and carries a prison term of seven to 15 years

Incitement is a catch-all political law covering activities deemed to cause unrest and has been used frequently against journalists and dissidents, usually with a three-year prison term

HIS WORK

With a master's degree from the University of the Arts London, Kubota, 26 at the time of his arrest, has done assignments for Yahoo! News Japan, Vice Japan and Al Jazeera English

His work has focused on ethnic conflicts, immigrants and refugee issues, including the plight of Myanmar's persecuted Rohingya Muslim minority

The military is sensitive about Rohingya issue because international courts are considering whether it committed human rights abuses

This includes genocide, in a brutal 2017 counterinsurgency campaign that caused Rohingyas to flee to Bangladesh for safety

SILENCING THE PRESS

Since the military seized power, it has forced at least 12 media outlets to shut down and arrested about 142 journalists, 57 of whom remain detained

Most of those still detained are being held under the incitement charge, for allegedly causing fear, spreading false news, or agitating against a government employee

ARREST OF KUBOTA

Kubota was arrested on July 30 by plainclothes police in Yangon, after taking photos and videos of a small flash protest against Myanmar's 2021 takeover by the military

Kubota was the fifth foreign journalist detained in Myanmar after the military seized power

US citizens Nathan Maung and Danny Fenster, who worked for local publications, and freelancers Robert Bociaga of Poland and Yuki Kitazumi of Japan were deported before serving full prison sentences

FTA by Diwali? UK minister red-flags Indian immigration

LONDON

BRITAIN'S Indian-origin Home Secretary, Suella Braverman, has cast doubts over a proposed free trade agreement (FTA) with India over the issue of migration and branded Indians as 'largest group of people who overstay' their visas in UK.

Expressing concerns over what she feared would be an 'open borders' migration policy in an interview with The Spectator on Thursday, the senior minister seemed to indicate that she would not offer Cabinet backing to a trade deal that offers India greater visa concessions.

It would pitch her in a possible clash with UK PM Liz Truss, who wants an FTA with India now in the final round of negotiations within the Diwali deadline set by her predecessor Boris Johnson.

"I have concerns about having an open borders migration policy with India because I don't think that's what people voted for with Brexit," Braverman said.

Asked about visa flexibility for students and entrepreneurs under an India-UK FTA, she said, "But I do have some reservations...The largest group of people who overstay are Indian migrants. We even reached an agreement with the Indian government last year to...facilitate better cooperation in this regard. It has not necessarily worked very well."

Her intervention comes at a time when India has overtaken China as the nation with the highest number of student visas issued to study at UK's higher education institutions. Under a new FTA, it has been widely expected that India would be seeking to bolster that trend for its students and professionals as part of an enhanced two-way exchange across different sectors. PTI

Costa Rica taps Adani for Dry Canal project

YESHI SELI @New Delhi

CENTRAL American country Costa Rica has invited the Adani group to explore the possibility of investing in its $12 billion Dry Canal project, that will connect the Atlantic to the Pacific Ocean.

"Adani group has shown interest in this project, which would involve building two ports—one on the Atlantic and the other on the Pacific. The ports will be connected 315 km by train and highway mainly to move cargo," said Costa Rica's Ambassador to India Claudio Ansorena.

If this project comes through, a container could be unloaded on one ocean, carried to the other ocean by road/rail and loaded onto a ship within an average of 54 hours. The idea is to facilitate ships avoid the highly congested Panama Canal route, where they often have to wait for longer to pass.

"The Dry Canal project will have the least environmental impact possible, as per Costa Rican laws, while protecting forest lands and allowing passages for animals. The train would have to be electric and all the projects would be powered by renewable energy," Ambassador Ansorena added.

OVERLAND CONNECT

- A Dry Canal uses rail and/or road transportation to connect two waterbodies. Cargo unloaded from a ship at one end of the canal, is loaded into trucks or railroads, carried to the other end, unloaded from the land transport and loaded into ships at the other end
- It is different from the Panama Canal, which allows cargo to sail between two oceans without docking at ports or getting into loading/reloading/land transport
- The time to connect the Pacific to the Atlantic in Costa Rica would be around three hours if trains run at an average of 100 km/hr

The Dry Canal would ease cargo movement from the east to the west coast of the US and vice versa, saving time, money and cost of transportation. While there are other sites in Central America and Mexico to built Dry Canals, Costa Rica says it has an edge as it offers the best conditions from a geographical, political and economic point of view.

Meanwhile, the Adani group recently announced plans to build three giga factories for manufacturing solar modules, wind turbines and hydrogen electrolysers as part of its $70 billion investment in clean energy by 2030.

Costa Rica, too, is playing a major role in producing green hydrogen. Its renewable share in its electricity matrix is about 95%. Also, around 52% of the country is covered by forests.

"We were invited by the Adani group to take part in the green talks in Ahmedabad earlier this year. The group indicated they could host the next green talks in Costa Rica. We are also in talks with them on green hydrogen and solar energy," Ansorena said.

Rating firm BWR asked to shut shop

Regulator had earlier recommended governance changes after it found instances of lapses

DIPAK MONDAL @ New Delhi

DEADLY BLOW

- In multiple inspections, Brickwork was found repeatedly failing to discharge its duties diligently
- Sebi has on two occasions levied penalties and ordered management changes on the rating agency
- Brickwork Ratings was found to be delaying recognition of defaults, material events
- It was found delaying ratings downgrade
- It failed to separate ratings operations with that of biz development

In an unprecedented move, the capital market regulator – Securities and Exchange Board of India (Sebi) – on Thursday cancelled the registration of rating agency Brickwork Ratings India and asked it to shut down its operations within six months for repeated lapses in 'discharging' its duties.

Sebi had earlier imposed monetary penalties on and recommended governance changes in Brickwork Ratings after it found several instances of lapses by the agency. In an order on Thursday, the regulator said governance changes recommended in earlier inspections, and monetary penalties imposed have not proved effective or deterred Brickwork in addressing basic requirements of running a credit rating agency. It said strict regulatory action is required to address the issue and protect the market ecosystem. The order further says Brickwork Ratings has failed "to exercise proper skill, care and diligence while discharging its duties as a credit rating agency, which has defeated the purpose investor protection and orderly development of the securities markets.

The market regulator had conducted multiple inspections of Brickwork for ratings given from April 2014 to 2019. It also undertook a joint inspection with RBI between January 20 and 24, 2020, of the records and documents of Brickwork.

During these inspections, the regulators found multiple deficiencies in exercising proper skill, care and diligence while discharging its duties. The regulator found on several instances, the rating agency delayed recognising defaults, material events and even failed to downgrade the ratings of securities. The regulators also detected several instances of conflict of interest where executives involved in ratings were also found to be in the business development team.

These irregularities were found in relation to ratings of several companies -- including IL&FS group companies, Bhushan Steel, Reliance Home Finance, Reliance Capital, Sintex Ltd, Coffee Café Day, etc-- which later either went into bankruptcy or faced several financial challenges.

Meesho, the internet commerce platform, has captured close to 21% of the market. Walmart-backed Flipkart group led the market with 49% share, according to consulting firm Redseer.

In the case of gross merchandise value (GMV) or total value of items sold, Flipkart leads with 62%, followed by Amazon 26%. Meanwhile, Amazon in a statement said they can't comment on speculative reports without robust and transparent methodology.

"We witnessed the highest-ever start to the event in the first 48 hours, with 8X sales as compared to the average business days. This response is reflected across all categories, and we have overall seen a substantial increase in visitors vs 2021," Amazon spokesperson said.

The spokesperson added that the company's seller community received significantly more orders compared to last year. According to a Redseer report, the online retail platforms have seen 27% YoY growth, clocking a sale of ₹40,000 crore ($5.7 billion).

Q2 preview: 'IT cos' margins may expand by 50 bps'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

Revenue growth to continue in 2nd quarter

Starting with the country's largest IT firm Tata Consultancy Services (TCS). Wipro will announce the results on October 12, followed by Infosys and Mindtree on October 13. Brokerages predict the revenue growth to continue in the second quarter too

IT companies are all set to announce their second quarter (July-September) results from October 10, starting with the country's largest IT firm Tata Consultancy Services (TCS).

Wipro will announce the results on October 12, followed by Infosys and Mindtree on October 13. Brokerages predict the revenue growth to continue in the second quarter too.

However, margin expansion is likely to be restricted due to continued high attrition, says ICICI Direct. It says revenue performance will be strong in the second quarter, barring weakness in a few companies due to company specific events - seasonal weakness in P&P business for HCLTech, which will likely overshadow stable performance in other verticals. Tech Mahindra business is expected to be impacted by planned exit from some of the low margin portfolios, which may impact revenues by nearly 1% for the quarter. ICICI Direct says margins are expected to expand quarter-on-quarter but margin expansion would be restricted to 20-50 bps for majority of the firms due to continued supply side challenges that will keep attrition at the elevated levels and subsequently increase backfilling costs.

Jefferies expects Infosys to deliver the highest organic growth (+4% QoQcc) and estimates Wipro's growth to be similar to Infosys's, aided by 100 bps inorganic contribution from Rizing/Convergence. Analysts also believe Infosys might announce a share buyback in the second quarter. "TechM's revenue growth is likely to be soft (+2.4% QoQcc) due to rationalisation of a few low-margin engagements. Among midsize IT firms, we expect healthy growth for Coforge (+5.5% QoQcc) and Mindtree (+5.2% QoQcc)," it said in a note. It expects aggregate Ebit margins to recover slightly by 30bps QoQ in the second quarter after falling by 165bps in the first quarter.

SpiceJet to get ₹1,000 cr under renewed ECLGS scheme

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

CASH-STRAPPED SpiceJet is all set to receive an additional ₹1,000 crore under the revised Emergency Credit Line Guarantee Scheme (ECLGS), which may help the airline wither the current headwinds.

The Ajay Singh-promoted airline has already received a credit of ₹350 crore under the scheme. "The additional funding will help SpiceJet to clear all statutory dues, lessor payments, induct brand new MAX planes, among other things. The funding settles the survivability debate once and for all," said a senior SpiceJet executive. Shares of the airline rose 10.14% to ₹42.35 during the day on the BSE. It ended at ₹41.85 apiece, higher by 8.84%.

The fresh funding option for the carrier comes two days after the Department of Financial Services (DFS), Ministry of Finance, modified the ECLGS to enhance the maximum loan amount eligibility for airlines under ECLGS 3.0 to 100% of their fund based or non-fund-based loan outstanding as on the reference dates or ₹1,500 crore, whichever is lower. As per an aviation analyst with a leading consultancy firm, SpiceJet is in dire need of funds to remain sustainable and the changes made in the ECLGS scheme goes well for the airline. "It needs more funds than ₹1,000 crore to fix its problems," he said, requesting anonymity. The scheme, introduced during the covid-19 pandemic, helps various sectors, entities get credit at a concessional rate of 7%.

Ajay Singh, Chairman and MD of SpiceJet, said the speed and urgency with which the aviation and finance ministries have been taking up issues and problems being faced by airlines post Covid and due to the record high oil prices is nothing but remarkable.

Airtel 5G plus goes live in several top cities, users won't have to change SIM

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

TELECOM service provider Bharti Airtel on Thursday said Airtel 5G plus has gone live in several top cities including Chennai, Delhi, Mumbai, Bengaluru, Hyderabad, Siliguri, Nagpur and Varanasi.

The company said the customers in these cities will start enjoying the 5G services in a phased manner, as the company continues to construct its network and complete the rollout. The users won't have to change SIM as existing Airtel 4G SIM is 5G enabled.

"Today marks one more step in our journey as we build out the finest network to deliver the best experience for our customers. For us, our customers are at the core of everything we do. Our solution will, therefore, work on any 5G handset and the existing SIM that customers have. Our obsession with customer experience is now embellished with a 5G solution that is kinder to the environment," Gopal Vittal, managing director and CEO of Bharti Airtel. On the pricing issue, India's second-largest telco said customers can enjoy 5G services on their existing data plans until roll-out is complete. It means Airtel will decide pricing of the 5G service only after deploying it in the entire country. According to the company, Airtel 5G Plus has three compelling advantages for customers including promise to deliver the best experience – between 20 to 30 times higher speeds than today coupled with brilliant voice experience and super-fast call connect.

Airtel Airtel spent ₹43,040 crore in 5G spectrum auction to acquire 19867.8 MHz spectrum in 900 MHz, 1800 MHz, 2100MHz, 3300 MHz and 26 GHz frequency bands. Bharti Airtel Chairman Sunil Bharti Mittal, at the launch of 5G event said Airtel will roll out its 5G service in the country by March 2024. Its competitor Reliance Jio launched the beta trial of its True-5g services for Jio users in four cities Mumbai, Delhi, Kolkata, and Varanasi. The company will roll out 5G services nationwide by December 2024. However, the third-largest Indian telco Vodafone Idea hasn't given any timeline for rolling out its 5G service. Kumar Mangalam Birla, the promoter of Vodafone Idea, said the company will soon begin the 5G rollout in the country.

Inflation to drag down Dabur's margin by up to 200 bps in Q2FY23

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

CONSUMER goods major Dabur India has flagged concerns that soaring inflation could lower its operating margin by around 150-200 basis points year-on-year in the second quarter (July-September) of the current financial year, while revenue is likely to have growth in mid-single digits during the same quarter.

"During the quarter inflation was at peak levels, which impacted gross margins. The input cost pressure led to a near-term impact on operating margin, which is expected to be lower by nearly 150-200 bps as compared to Q2 FY23 but will see sequential improvement," Dabur said in a regulatory filing on Thursday.

However, it expects easing commodity prices to help improve margins in the second half of the year.

Dabur's consolidated revenue from operations rose 10 YoY to ₹2,822 crore in the April-June quarter, with an operating margin of 19.62%.

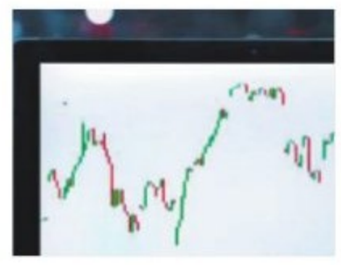
India's retail inflation accelerated to 7% in August 2022 on surging food prices after falling to 6.71% in July. Consumer price inflation data for September is expected next week. India's wholesale-based (WPI) inflation eased to 12.41% in August but remained in double digits for the 17th consecutive month

Inflation remains at elevated level

India's retail inflation accelerated to 7% in August 2022 on surging food prices after falling to 6.71% in July. Consumer price inflation data for September is expected next week

India's central bank, the RBI, in its recent policy meeting has estimated India's CPI inflation for the current financial year to be 6.7%, with the price gauge seen at 7.1% in July-September, 6.5% in October-December and 5.8% in January-March. The sharp rise in commodity prices across the world is considered as the top reason behind the soaring inflation in India. India's being a major importer of items such as crude oil and vegetable oil has limited scope but to pass the increased cost to end-consumers.

"Geopolitical situation continued to impact the business with unprecedented inflation during the quarter. This led to weak demand trends across categories," Dabur said. It added that the rural markets witnessed some pressure in terms of liquidity.



JP MORGAN

GoI bond inclusion: Efforts on to resolve hurdles

DIPAK MONDAL @ New Delhi

AS the inclusion of Indian government bonds on JP Morgan Global Bond Index-Emerging Market has been postponed after certain concerns raised by investors, JP Morgan Chase & Co has said it will continue to engage with the regulators and market participants for resolutions of the hurdles.

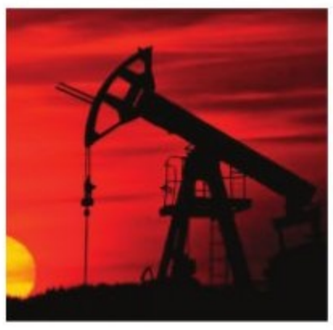
The US-based investment banking firm, which maintains Global Bond Index-Emerging Market, had earlier said it was putting on hold inclusion of Government of India bonds on account of a number of issues raised by investors. The inclusion could be delayed by a year. On a query sent by this newspaper, Gloria Kim, global head of Index Research and co-head of ESG Research at JP Morgan, said India (rupee) government bonds were placed on positive Index watch for the JP Morgan GBI-EM benchmark in October 2021, and will continue to remain on Index Watch at this time, based on investor feedback. "As part of the Index Watch, we will continue to engage with the regulators and market participants, and gather feedback on sufficient resolutions for the remaining hurdles," Gloria Kim told TNIE.

Though the JP Morgan executive didn't elaborate on the reason for putting on hold the inclusion, it is said that investors have raised concern about tedious compliance issues including a lengthy registration process for investors, settlement and custody of assets, etc. However, Kim did say that "India has one of the largest and most liquid onshore bond markets among EM economies, and over the past two years, the market has made significant strides in easing the access for foreign portfolio investors."

The inclusion of the bonds in the JP Morgan Index was to happen by the September end.

Oil prices up as OPEC+ decides to slash output

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi



OIL prices increased on Thursday after OPEC+ countries decided to slash crude production by nearly 2 million barrels a day, the largest reduction since 2020.

The Brent Crude Future, the benchmark of crude price, was trading at $94.00 per barrel, up 0.67% (IST 8.19 PM) and the US West Texas Intermediate (WTI) crude futures was trading at $88.29 per barrel, up 0.60%.

The Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) and allies including Russia announced the production cut following its first meeting in person since March 2020. According to the reports, the reduction is equivalent to nearly 2% of global oil demand.

They will cut production from November and OPEC and its allies will meet again in December. The group said the decision to cut production was made in light of the uncertainty that surrounds the global economic and oil market outlooks.

Oil prices in the international market inflated in the first half of the year, owing to the Ukraine and Russia war. The global benchmark had hit a peak of $139 a barrel in March. However, crude prices came down sharply on fears that a global recession will depress demand.

Brent crude is down 20% since the end of June. OPEC and its allies, which control more than 40% of global oil production, are hoping to preempt a drop in demand for their crude from a sharp economic slowdown in China, the US and Europe.

HFCL, Qualcomm tie up to develop 5G small cells

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

INDIAN telecom equipment maker HFCL Limited on Thursday announced a partnership with US-based Qualcomm Technologies for design and development of 5G Outdoor Small Cell products.

It said HFCL's investment in 5G Outdoor Small Cell products will enable faster roll-out of 5G networks, improved 5G user experience and more efficient utilisation of 5G spectrum. Small cell is a portable base station, just like a small mobile tower, can be placed at every 250 meters or so throughout cities. The firm said small cell deployments help to enhance coverage in places where existing macro cells have coverage holes or blackspots, or where coverage doesn't exist at all.

"As operators start rolling out 5G networks in India, they need outdoor small cells to complement their macro networks for a seamless 5G experience. Qualcomm's integrated 5G small cell platform enables us to quickly develop a portfolio of small cell products for both sub-6 GHz and millimeter wave to address India and global markets," said Mahendra Nahata, MD, HFCL.

Rising oil prices put pressure on rupee

Rupee closed record low against the US dollar as rising oil prices put the currency under pressure. At the interbank foreign exchange market, INR opened on a positive note at 81.52, then pared all the gains to settle at an all-time low of 81.94 against dollar

INDIAN Benchmark indices - Sensex and Nifty - on Thursday trimmed most of its early gains towards the end of session as uncertain global cues added volatility.

Sensex, after touching intraday high of 58,578, closed at 58,222 (up 156 points), while Nifty gained 46 points to close at 17,320. Rupee closed record low against dollar as rising oil prices put the currency under pressure. "Nifty climbed for the second straight session, but some caution set in amid lack of clarity on the Fed rate hike outlook. After an explosive start, the market was mostly seen consolidating gains but the benchmarks stayed resilient ahead of the US Jobs report to trickle in on Friday. Rising oil prices and spiking US Treasury yields are making investors jittery about taking long-term bets," said Prashanth Tapse, research analyst, senior VP (research), Mehta Equities. Brokerage Jefferies India expects Nifty to retest its previous lows of 15,500 points amid recent corrections that started after the US Fed raised rates. Nifty is 40% above pre-COVID peak, and valuation at 18.4xPE is 5-15% above the pre-COVID/LT average. This is despite the RBI's repo rate hike and the 10-year bond yields now 75-100 bps above pre-COVID levels. "While earnings could see some support in the September quarter from an early festive season, we believe deterioration in global macro and valuations concerns could catch up with the Indian markets," the Jefferies report said.

On Thursday, the decision by OPEC to reduce output, which resulted in increased oil prices, impacting the local equity market and the local currency. Oil prices, on Thursday, remained around $94 per barrel, a hike of $10/barrel in a week. The rupee plunged 32 paise to close at an all-time low of 81.94 (provisional) against the US dollar. At the interbank foreign exchange market, INR opened on a positive note at 81.52, then pared all the gains to settle at an all-time low of 81.94 against dollar, registering a decline of 32 paise over its previous close.

Pretorius ruled out of T20 World Cup

South African all-rounder Dwaine Pretorius has been ruled out of the ongoing ODI series in India and the upcoming T20 World Cup due to a fractured left thumb, CSA said on Thursday. Pretorius, who was the joint-highest wicket-taker for South Africa in the T20 World Cup last year, sustained the injury during the third T20I against India in Indore.

Aakarshi takes shuttle service

Chhattisgarh shuttler braves odds of a discomforting knee injury to clinch singles gold

FIROZ MIRZA @Gandhinagar

Chhattisgarh shuttler Aakarshi Kashyap won her state's first badminton gold in the ongoing National Games on Thursday

DESPITE a nagging injury in the right knee for the past one-and-a-half-year, Chhattisgarh shuttler Aakarshi Kashyap has been participating in the national and international events quite regularly. The injury is minor, she says, but it keeps recurring to trouble her during matches. It requires extra strengthening and proper warm-up of around half-an-hour before every match if the 21-year-old shuttler wishes to play without being impeded by the injury.

Knowing fully that the pain could trouble her, Aakarshi decided to compete at the ongoing 2022 National Games to contribute to her state's medal tally. The decision paid off as she clinched gold for Chhattisgarh, the first in badminton, in women's singles beating top-seed Malvika Bansod of Maharashtra 21-18, 22-20 in the final at PDDU Indoor stadium in Surat on Thursday.

"It's better now but sometimes the pain is more. It's a nagging pain actually so I usually focus more on strengthening. I usually feel the pain when I haven't done the warm-up. After warming up, it's much better. I feel the pain while jumping and doing a few other things but after 20-30 mins of running and other stuff it disappears," Aakarshi told this daily.

Playing with the injury had affected her show on court and there were times when she even decided to concede matches. "Last year during the Chennai and Hyderabad All India Ranking Tournaments the pain was intense and I even thought of conceding matches. Fortunately for me, it got better after some time. It recurred a few months ago. But I have consulted doctors and they say it's a minor thing. I just need to do more strengthening to keep things under control," she added.

With the win in the first round, Aakarshi set up a mouthwatering quarterfinal clash against home favourite Tasnim Mir. She defeated Mir in straight games (21-17, 21-14) to enter semifinals where she outclassed Tanya Hemanth of Karnataka 21-9, 21-15.

Aakarshi has been quite dominant in the domestic circuit for some time now but somehow couldn't translate that success regularly to the international events. She, however, recently won a mixed team silver at the 2022 Commonwealth Games and feels competing in all these tournaments will only help her grow as a shuttler. "For me, competing in all these tournaments has given me a good boost and improved my confidence on court. Competing against good players is a valuable experience for me and that experience will definitely help me in future."

She is currently ranked 47 in the world rankings and wants to get into the top-16 bracket to fulfill her aim of representing the country in the Olympics. "My ultimate goal is to represent and win a medal for the country in the Olympics. Right now I am looking for that and trying to improve my world ranking in the next one-and-a-half-year and enter the top-16 bracket as that will ensure my place in the team for the 2024 Games."

Aakarshi has been spending quite some time with ace shuttler PV Sindhu of late as she trains at Suchitra Badminton Academy where the latter trains. Aakarshi feels that she is learning a lot only by watching Sindhu both on and off the court. "We usually don't talk about matches off the court. As a junior, I usually watch her keenly while playing and try to learn from it. I watch her even off the court and during warm-up sessions so that I can learn something new," she added.

Notwithstanding the ever-recurring knee injury, Aakarshi will not have time to rest as she will take part in the Maldives International Challenge starting October 18. She will then compete in the Hylo Open, a Super 300 event, in Germany next month.

Madhya Pradesh's Advait turns a golden Page in pool

FIROZ MIRZA @Gandhinagar

ADVAIT Page was supposed to join classes at the University of Florida, where he has been pursuing a degree course in Sports Management soon after the Commonwealth Games in August. He took admission at the university in 2019 for the four-year course so that he can also train with world class swimmers.

Since the National Games are held in the country after a period of seven years, he changed his plans. He did not want to miss out on the opportunity of winning medals for his state. It was not that complete formalities back in the US. He has to take permission from the swimming coach as well as the lecturers of the University. Besides, he has to attend the online classes and submit assignments from time to time.

The US time zone made it even more difficult. There were days when the Madhya Pradesh swimmer had to stay awake throughout the night after gruelling training sessions. The hard work and additional effort put in by the swimmer, however, bore fruits as he won his third gold in 800m freestyle on Thursday at the Sardar Patel Aquatics Complex in Rajkot. He had earlier won a gold each in 1500m freestyle and 400m individual medley apart from bagging silver in the 200m backstroke. The MP swimmer will compete in 400m freestyle and 200m individual medley on Friday.

"The additional stay of one-and-a-half-month in the country means he has been doing both training and attending classes. There are days when he rushes back from training and directly goes into his room to attend classes. He also submits assignments for which he stays awake the whole night to ensure he does not miss the deadline," Advait's father Ashutosh Page told this daily.

Earlier, Advait's superior endurance and finishing speed earned him the 800m freestyle gold in one of the closest races in the event in the country. Trailing Aryan Nehra (Gujarat) and Sajan Prakash for all but the final few meters, he shot past them to be the first to touch the wall. Later, Sajan bossed the 50m butterfly to complete a sweep of the three events in the stroke. If he was feeling tired after being pushed hard in the 16-lap event by Advait and Aryan, he did not show it as he coasted to victory, making it clear that he brooks no challenge in butterfly events.

With victories in the 100m backstroke finals, Olympians Maana Patel and Srihari Nataraj picked up their second individual gold medal each. A start to finish effort by Bhavya Sachdeva (Delhi) handed Karnataka teenager Hashika Ramachandra her first defeat in five events here.

Meanwhile at the Mahatma Mandir in Gandhinagar, Jamuna Boro of Assam registered a 5-0 win over lesser-known Nirmal of Nagaland to open her campaign in style in the women's 57kg weight division. Her statemate and former World Youth champion Ankushita Boro also advanced to the next round after recording an RSC (referee stops contest) win over Telangana's Niharika Gonella in the women's 66kg preliminary contest.

Gold for archer Atanu

Veteran archer Atanu Das won the men's individual recurve gold beating Gurcharan Besra of Services. The West Bengal archer had a forgettable outing at the 2020 Olympics in Tokyo last year. The failure also meant he couldn't make it to the Indian squad since then and was dropped from the Target Olympic Podium Scheme.

The gold here, however, has given him a lot of confidence. "This gold is reassuring that my preparations are on the right track. You can say I am an upgraded version of myself. Thoda chillana kam kar diya hoon (Have stopped shouting now). But when I do something big, you will see me shouting in excitement," he said after finishing on top of the podium.

Deepti makes striking presence with consistency

GOMESH S @Chennai

SOCIAL media is still buzzing over what Deepti Sharma did a fortnight ago at Lord's. In one way or the other the conversation that started that night has been kept going. However, the India all-rounder has moved on, continuing to do what she does best in the ongoing Asia Cup — delivering for her team at crunch situations.

With the ball — as it has been the case for a while now — she has been India's go-to bowler across situations, with her overs spread across powerplay, middle and death. And she has returned with the figures 2/15, 1/10 and 0/11. None of it is surprising as her bowling has been key to India's fortunes through the year. But, what has stood out is the way she has performed with the bat. Now, Deepti has always been shuffled around in the batting line-up, especially in the shortest format. And, her strike rate has been a bit of a concern in the past (had the highest SR year in 2020 with 100.63). However, since the start of this year, the southpaw has stepped up in this regard, taking the SR up to 123.12 with 213 runs in 11 innings.

In Sri Lanka, she was using the scoop and paddles. During the Commonwealth Games, she showed some more of her armour in the offside. Through this time, she was batting in the lower-order, trying to accelerate in the last few overs. On Tuesday, coming into bat at No. 3 against the United Arab Emirates, Deepti smashed a 49-ball 64, helping India revive the innings along with Jemimah Rodrigues. She hit the spinners at will through the leg side, making sure they didn't let go off the momentum. So much so that 73.43 per cent (47) off her runs came on one side of the wicket. It was an innings of dominance as the southpaw showed she can consistently bat at a faster rate in the shortest format.

Ahead of the Sri Lanka tour in June, the left-hander had spoken about how she adapts to bat in different positions in a chat with this daily. She said going back and watching footage after every match helped her improve. "Even the positives, whatever boundaries I hit or good innings I played, it has helped me a lot," Deepti had said.

The signs of aggression were there in the Lankan tour. And although the pitches in Bangladesh are something she thrives on, she has delivered consistently across conditions this year. In a format where the role of a floater is as important as a specialist, Deepti's new-found consistency and aggression is a big positive for India, given that they will be playing in a T20 World Cup come February 2023.

Historic win for Thailand, beat Pak by 4 wickets

SYLHET: In what came as a massive boost to Thailand cricket, the women's team got better of Pakistan for the first time as they registered a four-wicket win in a last-over thriller on Thursday. Thailand have rose through the ranks rapidly in the last few years. They made their T20 World Cup debut in 2020, put up a show against Pakistan before rain played spoilsport, missed the 2022 ODI WC berth due to Covid and lost in a close match during the 2023 T20 WC qualifiers. After their win on Thursday, should they beat Malaysia and UAE, Thailand might come close to making it to the Asia Cup final. Brief scores: Pakistan 116/5 in 20 ovs (Sidra 56) lost to Thailand 117/6 in 19.5 ovs (Chantham 61).

Samson shines, but Proteas hold nerve to take lead

ENS @Chennai

A REARGUARD act from Heinrich Klaasen and David Miller helped South Africa to claim the rain-curtailed first ODI in Lucknow on Thursday. The unbeaten 139-run stand between the two finishers took Proteas to a commanding 249/4 in 40 overs. That total was always going to be challenging and so it proved as the hosts fell short by 9 runs.

For a brief while, Sanju Samson and Shardul Thakur threatened with sixth-wicket stand of 93. But the asking rate proved to be too big in the end. From an Indian point of view, these ODIs lack meaning and have zero context. From a South African point of view, though, they need the wins badly as to qualify for next year's World Cup. It's why the Proteas are prioritisng this series over acclimatising in Australia ahead of the T20 World Cup.

India's Sanju Samson (R) smashed an unbeaten 63-ball 86 in the first ODI | SPORTZPICS

After being asked to bat first — the prevailing strategy in shortened games (this one was a 40-overs a side affair) — the Proteas started cautiously in the face of seam movement. At 41/0 after 10 overs, the openers had gotten through the first hurdle but they knew they had to up the pace if they had designs on a big-gish total.

They struggled to that as the likes of Thakur and the impressive Kuldeep Yadav put the breaks on the scoring. It looked like the innings was going nowhere at 110/4 but Miller and Klassen, the designated finishers in this line-up had other ideas.

They slowly built the innings before the grandstand finish. The last five overs, especially proved to be expensive as the pair scored 54 runs, including three sixes and as many boundaries. It was not a good evening for Ravi Bishnoi whose rhythm let him down big time. In all, he conceded seven fours and a six.

The much-changed Indian top-order were not good enough and kept losing wickets to high quality bowling, both to seam and pace. After Wayne Parnell and Kagiso Rabada picked up a wicket each in their opemning spell, Keshav Maharaj controlled the middle phase of the innings. Apart from picking up the wicket of Ishan Kishan, he bowled as many as 30 dot balls that put pressure on the middle order.

In what looked like a lost cause, Samson thrilled the spectators with a spectacular unbeaten 86 off 63. The innings also raised questions as to why he wasn't on a plane to Australia.

If he keeps bating like this, it will make the selectors job that much harder to keep ignoring him. The next match in the three match series is in Ranchi on Sunday.

Brief scores: South Africa 249/4 in 40 ovs (Miller 75 no, Klassen 74 n.o) bt India 240/8 in 40 ovs (Sanju 86 n.o, Shreyas 50).

Santosh Trophy set for Saudi sojourn in 2023

ENS @Chennai

IF everything goes well, the knock out phase of the Santosh Trophy will be held in select cities across Saudi Arabia, the All India Football Federation said in a statement that the option is being looked at.

This was part of a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) signed between the AIFF and the Saudi Arabian Football Federation on Thursday.

"Both federations also agreed to deeply study the possibility to stage the final stages of the National Football Championships (NFC) for the Santosh Trophy in Saudi Arabia next February 2023," said the statement.

"The idea is to host the knock out phase of Santosh Trophy in select cities of Saudi to encourage State level players to dream big and also to connect large Indian community in Saudi with Indian football and create a win-win situation for both the Federations," the statement read.
